Centreville Hi-Post

NEW STAFF MEMBER
By Betty Armstrong

This week we're introducing to the public a new member of our staff. He is Jack Smith, a Sophomore, who has charge of the activities in the manual training department under the very excellent supervision of Mr. Nides. The editor hasn't meant to slight this department but was waiting until the paper got a farily good start. We hope to have an interesting report from Jack each week.

LADY IN RED
By F. Legg

In English class last Friday morning Miss Storey asked us what "conspicuous" meant. No one knew so she explained by giving this illustration:

If a group of people were standing on a street corner and one lady was dressed in red, which person would stand out the most- We all replied that the one in the red dress would.

Miss Storey happened to be wearing a bright blue dress and Peggy Wolcott a brilliant red one. Without thinking Miss Storey said, "The Lady in Red" or "The Beautiful Lady in Blue." So, you see, we had a real word study. We now know what "conspicuous" means.

1A BRIGHT LIGHTS
By Betty Cross

Old fashioned methods of school teaching came back to us last Wednesday when we had a science review in the form of a "spelling bee." Wendell Shawn was captain of the "Proteins" and Ann Jacobs was captain of the "Carbohydrates." Ann was the last to go down on her team, but Wendell Shawn and Ann Covington, who was a "Protein," finished in a tie.

"Dickie" Day and Elmer Anthony have turned primiitve during the last few days. They have been playing with pen-knives but Miss Eichorn was afraid they would get hurt and told them to put the knives out of sight.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS
By Jack Smith

I guess you are wondering at the title of this page. In fact it is a bit changed, as is every thing in our school shop. Well, first of all our teacher is changed; this being Mr Nides in place of Mr. Bruehl.

Then our shop comes next. You wouldn't know the old place. It's all fixed up. It has new and better tools. All the new machines are run by electricity. This changes things and helps a lot as it saves a lot of work.

In woodwork we have the planer, lathe, jigsaw, and buzz saw. In metal work: drill press, buffer and a very small drill press with which to use bits size No. 1-16 inch. That's small, but this is getting a bit too long, just one more thing and I will leave you

The courses I forgot to mention are: Art Metal, Mechanical Drawing Woodwork and Electricity. Two more than we had last year.

ARTISTIC STUDENT
By Frances Brown

It must be a family trait to be artistic as Ridge Perkins brought a fine picture to school Thursday which he drew and painted. It was an exact duplicate of the cover-picture of the November "Outdoor Life." He has also illustrated several historic stories and a ship of the Middle Ages

Harold Avery entertained us during the entire English period on Friday with the most interesting dog stories.

HOME ECONOMICS
By Peggy Wolcott

On Monday we graded our pot holders by the vote of the class.

First place—Agnes Andrews.
Second place—Peggy Wolcott
Third place—Almeda Thomas
Fourth place—Florence Wise.

We are now making a nightgown which some children have finished and look very attractive.

JUNIOR NEWS
By Carlyle Blevins

Last Saturday a group of High School students, mostly Juniors, visited the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. The trip was made on one of the school busses driven by Vernon Robinson.

The chaperons on this trip were Miss Eichorn, Miss Roe, Miss Storey and Mr. Nides.

The bus left Centreville and 7:20 o'clock and reached Philadelphia at 11:00 o'clock. From then until about 5:00 o'clock, as much of the institute as possible was taken in by hungry eyes, sighs of amazement, and a few sore feet. Among the many educational exibitions were those concerning Physics, Chemistry, Astronomy Locomotives, Boats. Cars, Robots, Machinery, Printing, Aviation and most important of all, the Fels Planetarium. The bus arrived back at Centreville at about 9:30.

JUNIOR TEAM DEFEATS CLAYTON

The Junior team of S. H. S. proved last week that they will be worth their weight in gold to the team next year, as a number of this year's team are Seniors. They won from Clayton Junior High with the score of 8-2. Lulu Thompson threw two goals and Rachel Taylor threw another.

The girls are planning another game with Clayton, Tuesday, at Clayton. The team is being ably managed by our captain, Helen Powell.

The Girls' Athletic Association held a bake in the Town Hall last Friday. Seven dollars was cleared. The Athletic Assocation would like to thank everyone who patronizes these bakes, as this is our chief means of raising money.

B. T. B. PRESENT PROGRAM

The Benztown Bard Literary Society presented its first program of the year last Wednesday, November 4th. It was as follows:

President's address—Mary Wallace.

"Today we are presenting our first program of the year. Though I have been selected as the B. T. B's. president, I am fully aware that I alone will not be able to accomplish anything worth while without the full cooperation of my fellow members. I urge you to stand by me in all undertakings and ask for your ideas and assistance at all times.

"This brings to my mind a talk that was given at the 4-H Club Camp which I had the privilege of attending during the summer. True and loyal friends were likened to the East windows of your home from which breezes always blow calm and quiet. I hope that I may be able to compare my co-workers with the East windows of my home in that you will all work in perfect accord and harmony

"We will do our utmost to present entertaining programs bearing in our mind our motto, 'Semper Altior,' meaning, 'Always Higher.'

"To the members of our fellow society we extend the hope of unrivaled fellowship throughout the year.

"I trust that the following program will prove both entertaining and helpful to you.

"I thank you."

Dedication of Benztown Bard—Ethel Barcus

Duet, "Belles of Saint Mary's"—Ethel Barcus and Frances Biddle.

Poem, "October's Bright Blue Weather"—Harriett Walls

Group Song, "A Rendezvous With A Dream"—Harriett Walls, Marie Shields, Joanne Webster, Charles Holden, Thomas Stevens and Elwood Walls.

Reading, "The Origin of Hallowe'en"—Hildred Powell

Recitation, "Little Orphan Annie"—Frances Biddle.

Monologue, "Gigglin Lizzie"—Helen Powell.

Jokes—Betty Spencer.

Song—By the school.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

The "Problems of Democracy" class had charge of the Armistice Day Program.

It consisted of reports based upon a study of the "Scholastic," which had been worked out as a class project. The subject was "Can War Be Prevented." Hubert Skinner acted as chairman and all members of the class participated in reports or discussions.

The topics discussed were: "War Drums of the World," "Peace Plans of the World." "Truce on the Economic Front," and "America Girds for Peace."

"I Hate War," a speech made by President Roosevelt on August 14 1936, was read by Billy Stevens; and Rudyard Kipling's "Lest We Forget" was given by Ethel Barcus.

The special music was furnished by the eighth, ninth and tenth grade girls with Mary Wallace as accompanist.

The school sang "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

4-H Style Queen

Mary M. Stevenson, 16, Greensboro, will represent Maryland's 6,500 4-H club girls in the National Style Revue to be held in Chicago December 1, as a feature of the National Club Congress. As state champion she receives an all-expense trip from a mail order company, sponsor of the contest conducted by extension agents. Her cotton school dress which won her state championship is of dark brown shantung suiting, two-piece, with pepium effect, and yellow linen trim. The cost of her costume, with all accessories, was $7.89. She won over contestants from 16 other counties.

OUR ANNUAL BAZAAR
(An Editorial)

We are very busy here at Stevensville High these days, making preparations for our annual supper and bazaar which will be held this year on the second and third of December and will be followed by a dance on the fourth.

During the depression years we did not make much money from our bazaars. However, last year, under the management of the Alumni Association, our profits exceeded those of previous years and the whole affair was bigger than ever before. We served a delicious supper, cooked and served as our good Kent Island ladies are noted for. Each year we try to have extra features and last year we had with us Madame Pierre, a famous palmist, and a very novel attraction called the "Chamber of Horrors" which was quite appropriate for the Hallowe'en season.

In previous years the work has been done, with the exception of the supper, by the student body and faculty. This arrangement, although it was not harmful to a large extent, interfered with classes held the week previous to the affair. But with the aid of the Alumni Association last year, very little time was taken from school hours.

This year a larger bazaar is being planned, one that is larger and better than any ever attempted by the citizens and patrons of S. H. S. The Kent Island's Woman's Club, a very active association, is taking complete charge. They are working for a community house, a very commendable ambition, and we think that it is only right that they should be helped. So we are setting an example by trying to help them. We are planning to give them a portion of our profits for their building fund.

We have heard that a few people have objected to this, but I am sure that it is due to the fact that they don't know the particulars of the situation. If you, the people who are objecting, could realize that we are much better off because we will have a large organization working for us, and in addition, our school routine will not be interfered with because of the bazaar as before, I am sure you would change your opinion.

And you students of S. H. S., let's work hard to make this bazaar more profitable, because we will be the ones who will receive the benefits of these profits, both in school and in the community house.

WITH THE FRESHMEN
By Lulu Scheel

In our Civics class this week Mr. Stevens, our principal, observed the discussion given by the class. We discussed the relations of the neighborhood. On Tuesday we were tested on that particular section. Talking about tests, we had one in English and Science, too.

Style isn't really gossip, but I'll give you the latest in hair-dressing here at S. H. S. The girls have changed from wearing curls on the forehead to combs on the back of the head.

LANDON OR F. R. D.
By Clara Bryan

Last Monday, November 2, a very interesting debate was given by the Seniors in the auditorium. The question was: Resolved, "That Landon should be the next president of the United States and would make a better president than Roosevelt has." Those on the affirmative side were: Isabel Baxter, Mary Ruth Frampton and Clara Bryan. Lois Cockey, Doris Palmer and Eva Chance were on the negative side. Very good arguments were put up by both sides but the affirmative side won by the decision of the judges. After the debate the student body voted for President and Roosevelt was elected by a large majority.

Mrs. Dill Breaks Arm

Mrs. Harry Dill, of Centreville Landing, is slowly recovering from a broken arm which she sustained about ten days ago. The accident occurred when Mrs. Dill fell in her bed room at her home. Dr. H. F. McPherson set the broken bone.

TRI-HIGH LIGHTS

AS GOES TRI-COUNTY . . .
By Helen Chaires

Each student in our school had his first chance "to vote". The Senior class room was changed into an election booth. We had five private booths in which to mark our ballots. Several of the seniors acted as clerks and judges.

The returns of the votes were as follows: Roosevelt and Garner 40 votes; Landon and Knox 7 votes, Goldsborough 39, Lloyd 5. Several of the ballots were ruled out as illegal.

SNOOPING SARA'S COLUMN

Although a certain teacher had a special private booth Monday to mark his ballot, he needn't think several of the seniors don't know how he voted.

Did a senior boy really have to teach Miss Price how to vote?

A certain junior would not wear his coat on a very cold night for fear of being called dressed up.

A few of those Republicans in school are reported to have voted for Roosevelt.

Why is it one of those dignified senior girls doesn't like to be teased?

INTERNATIONAL PEACE

The student body had the opportunity of hearing Dr. Guthrie Speers, the minister of Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, talk to them on "International Peace."

Among the many important facts that Dr. Speers stressed about international peace are: It is possible for a nation to keep out of war; it is not selfish for a nation to stay out of war; war is not glorious; war only appeals to our emotions by glamour and by music in order to deceive us in the end; war is not an effective way to accomplish what we consider right; a nation's preparation program should be used only for the protection of the nation; all munition plants should be under the control of the government; and a neutrality law should be made strong enough to prohibit the sale of raw materials as well as the sale of munitions to warring countries.

Dr. Speer left with the students of Tri-County High School the splendid slogan "Keep on, keeping on."

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The Eighth Grade Civics class appreciates the small leaflets that the Red Cross sent us about the Fire Prevention Week. It comes in handy with our lessons as we have been studying about safety.

We were glad to have our visitor, Junior Fleming, and we hope he enjoyed his visit.

Everyone is still wondering who will get that prize for naming this news column.
