Extra Telegraph.

Feeling that a crisis has arrived—when it becomes the duty of every friend of his country to offer up his prejudices and his personal interests, so far as they are in conflict with the great end of redeeming the Government from the misrule which threatens the overflow of the best interests of society, and believing that the establishment ofsome organof communication,through which the advocates of constitutional law can address the public intelligence at a price within the reach of every citizen, is essential to its accomplishments, the subscriber proposes to publish a semi-monthly

EXTRA UNITED STATES TELEGRAPH.

To consist of sixteen large octavo pages, at the reduced rate of one dollar and fifty cents per annum, for a single copy.

It is intended to constitute a medium through which the ablest pens may address the people, and all such are invited to cootribute. It is especially iecommended to the consideration of the State Rights Societies now springng up in every State of the Union; and will embodythe leading facts,documents and arguments, upon which the success of the principles which give them life, depend, In a word, its great end will be to harmonise conflicting opinions, and by promoting a surrender of political prejudice and personal interests unite those who disapprove of the manner in which the Government is now administered in a common effort to rescue the institutions of the country from the destiny which, in the opinion of all intelligent and distnterested persons, otherwise awaits us.

With a view to enable subsequen, subscribers to obtain the whole seriet the first numbers will be stereotypeds and new editions issued as the subscriptions may be enlarged.

Editors with whom we exchange will do us a favor by noticing this proposition, and all persons who desire its success are requested to obtain subscribers.

All subscriptions must be paid in advance.

The first number will issue as soon as five thousand subscribers are obtained,

300 REWARD

Ranaway from the subscriber living on Kent Island in Queen Ann's county, Md. a Negro man who calls himself

PERE JOHNS.

Said negro is about 28 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches high, a very bright mulatto, with prominent features, and hair nearly straight ; he has the habit of shaking his head a little when talking to you—is rather slender, and carres himself tolerably erect when walkiing. His clothing when he went off is not known, as he absconded during the Holydays, and it is probable he had on his best suit, he may however have taken other clothing with him and will change them to suit circumtances.

The above reward will be given if taken out of the State, and 200 dollars if taken in the State and all reasonable expenses paid if delivered in any jail, in Maryland.

—o-o-o—

The subscriber, who has been engaged for the last ten years in the above business, takes this method of informing the public generally, that he is now prepared to do any work he may be favoured with. He assures all those who may be under the painful necessity of calling some one to attend funerals, that he will do every thing necessary for such an occasion—he has a good two horse carriage and will send as usual,coffins to any part of the county, free of charge, and will when practicable give his personal attention,

As I intend to keep for my assistance an experienced hand, I flatter myself from past favours, that I shall still be encouraged by a generous public.

Degrading Servility.

The Buffalo Patriot states, that the political rag manufactory at Lockport, the Lockport Bank has lately made an issue of $1,000 bills,and on the figures of the bills are placed Jackson over Washington andVanBuren overFranklin, illustrative of the overthrow of the Whig principles of Washington and Franklin, and the ascendancy of the Tory doctrines under the administration of Jackson and Van Buren.

This accords well with the vote Gen. Jackson gave in Congress in 1796.

Mr, Poindexter.

The N.Y.Argus is in the habit of abu-Mr, Poindexter. We have repled to its calumnies, until we are tired, but we would ask that paper in the words of the Natchez Courier, if he was such a worthless character as the " by authority" presses would have us believe his character and his acts at New Orleans being as well known at the time of his election as they can be now if not better, why did the Jackson party make him a Senator? And having made him a Senator, why when there is no new light in which to exhibit his character do they now complain?—What virtue there is in Van Buren-Jacksonism!

More Roguery.

The National Intelligencer says, that in the midst of profuse professions of economy, and by way of restricting the abuse of the franking privilege, the Post Office people go on creating new Post Offices, and of course new frankingmasters, at the rate of a thousand Post-Offices a year. Yes it has been officially published, that no fewer than four hundred and ninety-nine new Post Offices were established from the first of January to the first of July last and there is reason to believe that those Government favors have been even more lavishly distributed, from the first of July to this time. So much for economizing the public expenditures and reforming the abuses, which have brought the patronage of the Government into conflict with the freedom of elections !

Shocking Steamboat Accident.

A melancholy occurrence took place on board the steamer Lady of the Lake Captain Nichols, early on the morning of Saturday, the 7th inst. Just as the boat was about leaving Queen's Wharf at Quebec,for Montreal the boiler burst and all the persons eight in number who occupied the middle cabin were so sadly scalded as to survive but a few hours, Their names are William Ronaldson, and Ellen his wife, their four children--Ellen, Archibald, Jane, and Robert, Grace Purvis, their servant, (all from Leith,) and Thomas Maffit,a child. It was proved that the boiler was so much corroded as to be eaten half through; and although no criminal intent could be proved or imagined,yet such was the culpable negligence of the captain and Eogineer that the coroners jury levied a duodand of 50*l*, upon the boiler, Mr, Ronaldson was a man in easy circumstances, and has a brother *residing in*Philadelphia. The Engineer was intoxicated at the time of the accident. This was the first accident that occurred upon the St, Lawrence since the introduction of steam upon it, twenty-three years ago.

N. Y. Com. Adv.

A Van Buren paper published at Belleville, Illinois, under date of Aug, 13 observes;

The fact is Duncan has abandoned every principle of national policy upon which he was first elevated to Congressional Distinction. He has thrust himself in the face, and opposed to his utmost the prominent measures of the administration of the People's President.

O ho! it was but yesterday that the Kitchen Cabinet claimed DUNCAN as a collar man.—Star.

The Frederick Examiner says;—It is said that thirteen half Eagles have arrived in town, one of which is to be sent to each Election District, as a show piece for the day of Election. It is strongly suspected that they are counterfeit. Whoever is in the habit of carrying a bottle of aquafortis in one pocket and a pair of scales in the other, may deal in them with some safety!

THE FOREST FOUNDLING.

—oo—

From the St. Andrew's Standard.

Averse, as we are, to the practice of seizing on any little local incident,and rendering it the subject of embelished detail, yet we occasionally hear of occurrences so touching and pathetic in their nature as to awaken our sympathies, and interest us in their narration. Of such a nature is that which we now present to the reader.

Mr. Charles Bearghan left the north east part of this Province a short time ago, and took what is called the upper road from Fredericton to St. Stephen's on his way to the United States. On the 5th August he passed the thriving village at Hartt's Mills on the Rushagomis very early in the morning, and to reach Trews tavern, at the Piskahagan, by night. Properly equipped for the woods, furnished with suitable provisions, his blanket, his axe slung behind, and his gun on his shoulder, he trudged gaily along until he arrived at Shin creek, which is unbridged, and was at that time much swollen with late rains. A woodman seldom hesitates at such obstacles—he proceeded up the bank of the stream and set about felling a tree across it, to serve as a temporary bridge: it swung aside in falling,and launched into deep water, it moved away majestically down the stream.—Our traveller "looked and looked, and wist not what to do," He was not inclined to resume the axe, and therefore resolved to proceed up the stream, in hopes of finding a favorable place for crossing. At length he arrived at one of those placid-looking pools which form deep stretches in our rivers and are generally termed still water places. Here he made a kind of raft sufficient to bear up his clothes and gun and keep them dry, while he swam over & drew them after him—He was soon busily engaged in rehabiting his limbs, & refreshing himself with a bit of biscuit seated on the flowery margin of a natural meadow which extended along the banks of the stream, when his ear was startled by a whining noise resembling the sounds frequently uttered by young bears. He instantly seized his gun, examined the touchhole and reprimed, then clapping a ball into the barrel,

" with look intent,
"and eye and ear attentive bent."

he cautiously stole towards the spot whence the sounds issued. They were no longer uttered, but he now and then heard a crackling noise among the underbrush and perceived a twitching motion of the twigs and spray, but could not discover what caused them. Convinced, however, that he had some animal to encounter, his gun was at his shoulder and his finger on the trigger. He then silently reasoned with himself whether or not he should fire at random, but experience cautioned him against so rash an action, for no animal is more furious than a wounded bear. As thus he mused; his eyes became suddenly dilated, his heart throbbed violently, he raised himself erect, and let the but of his gun drop quickly to the ground! Behold! among the raspberry bushes—and seen through the interstices of their many twinkling leaves of dewy green—he sees a beautiful infantile arm fitfully stretched out, and little taper fingers plucking the rich, ripe, crimson fruit,

After he had experienced the first flush of the mingled emotions of surprise at the extraordinary sight : of horror at the bare idea of his gun and his intended act—and of pleasure in the expectation of meeting society in these deep and solemn solitudes, our traveller advanced and beheld a little girl, about seven years old; sedulously engaged in pulling and eating of the abundant wild berries which were spread in great variety over that naturally rich & verdant spot.—She appeared to be an interesting child—her clothes had a respectable look, albeit they were most woefully rent and worn; her fair hair played in disordered ringlets over her cheek, which was begrimed and pale, and her soft blue eyes were red with weeping. She burst out into wild hysteric wailings which sunk suddenly into convulsive sobs.

The traveller was lost in utter amazement, and hemmed aloud, to attract the childs attention—Alarmed, in her turn, at his appearance, half habited as he was, she screamed—fled a few steps—fell, and covered her face with her hands, He was quickly by her side, and used the kindest & most soothing expressions to gain her confidence and calm her fears. She had fallen more from bodily weakness than from fear, altho' she had been greatly alarmed at the unexpected appearance of the stranger. At length she ventured to look up, and with a sweet but
