Disgraceful.

From the New York Daily Advertiser.

In yesterday's paper we noticed the disgraceful proceeding on the Battery, when every colored person was compelled by a ruthless mob to seek shelter, by flying into the nearest dwelling. On the same afternoon, a barouche, the driver of which happened to be a colored servant, was attacked with stones and mud and a lady and her little daughter were in imminent danger of their lives. The driver was struck in his forehead by a stone, but fortunately was not seriously injured. The fears of the blacks were so great, that yesterday it was observed that not one was seen on the battery. We saw some hundred of these rioters; they appeared to be boys and young men about twenty years of age, of the most degraded and wretched portion of our population. A vigilant energetic, and active police should arrest this propensity for rioting, by making examples of a few of them which would nip the propensity in the bud.

Fearful Performance.

From Baltimore Visiter

We have been told that on Monday last a lad was bantered by some of his companions while on top of the Washington Monument, to descend to the base by the lightning rod. He deliberately commenced his journey, and having passed the cornice with some difficulty descended in safety to the base!

Stop the Runaway.

Ranaway from the subscriber living near Millington, Kent county, Md. on Wednesday the 29th of July, a negro woman named

Matilda Jeffers,

belonging to the heirs of Samuel Bostwick, of yellow complexion, well proportioned, about five feet high and supposed to be about 24 years of age: her dress cannot be correctly described as she took a variety of clothing with her: it is presumed that she has made towards Philadelphia, as she has an uncle there by the name of Jeffers, where she would likely put up for some time. It is possible that she may have obtained a paasage from some one of the same name, from this neighborhood. Whosoever will rescue the said servant in any goal so that she may be obtained, or will give the subscriber information concerning her shall be generously rewarded, by

DEATHS.

Near Halls X Roads yesterday, Mrs' FAULKNER, wife of Mr. Benjamin Faulkner,—

In Centreville on Sunday last, Mrs, SUSANNA, wife of Mr. Wm, S. Constable.

In Centreville on Saturday night last—EDWARD, son of Mr. Tho. Perkins.

Departed this life, at his residence near Roes X Roads on Friday the 25th ultimo Mr. BENNET PRATT, in the 35th year of his age, Mr. Pratt in early life embraced Religion, and by exemplary conduct obtained a good report among his brethren; and tho' he lived for many years in strict conformity to the outward duties of his profession, he felt that he lived beneath his privilege as a christian. For the last few years he became much more devoted and up to the time of his late attack, he enjoyed the divine presence in a very eminent degree, about an hour before his dissolution, he was asked by a friend if he felt any alarm at the near approach of death? his answer was—not the least, I have earnestly endeavored to obtain a conscience void of offence towards my God & my fellow men—I now feel that I have done so—I love my God and all mankind—I can place my reliance on the promises and atonement of a crucified Saviour—therefore, I am SAFE He then called to his companion, who approached his bedside tremblingly alive to the awful scene about to take place, when in the most loving and affectionate manner and smiling countenance he invited her to follow him to Abraham's bosom; and after giving her some spiritual advice admonished her to lead her little children on in the paths of righteousness, that he should look out with confident expectation of meeting them all where parting shall be no more, after which, he called on a Reverend Brother present to sing a favorite Hymn, and prayer was made, and our Brother and Friend sunk away into the arms of his Saviour, there to rest until the morning of the great day.

A number of most intimate friends were witnesses to the since just described, the recollection of which will not soon be erased from their minds—he has left a companion, five children, a beloved church & a large circle of friends to mourn their loss, Let me die the death of the righteous, and my last end be like his,

FULLING.

The subscriber is happy to inform his friends and the public generally of Queen Ann's and the adjacent counties that his Fulling Mill is in first rate order, and feels himself prepared to execute all orders made on him, with neatness and despatch. The work heretofore done at his mill has met with the approbation of those who have confided it to him, and no effort on his part shall be spared to give entire satisfaction to a generous public.
