

WISHES.

BY THOMAS HAINES BAILEY.

Say, what should be the first wish if a fairy said to thee,
Now ask a boon—I'll grant it—whatever it may be?
The first wish of thy heart I think, may easily be told;
Confide in me, deny it not, thy wish would be for Gold.

From the Daily Albany Argus.

DIRGE.

On the night following Sunday, August 21st, while many of the inhabitants of Southampton county, Virginia, were absent at a camp-meeting held in a neighboring district, the blacks rose upon the defenceless and unarmed, who remained at home, and sacrificed, with barbarous cruelty, between sixty and seventy victims without discrimination of age, sex or condition.

Will fire the innocent,
The beautiful and fair,
The young, who perish'd in their youth,
The old, in his hoary hair.

Will fire the many hearts,
And homes made desolate;
For broken hearts and servitudes—
The spoils of murderous late.

Fair pass'd the Sabbath-morn
Behind the western hills;
And hymns were heard in the ancient wood,
And songs by the rushing rills.

The old man call'd his flock,
Add read the living word;
And the peace of God was in his heart,
While his lips in prayer were stir'd.

All solemnly kneel down;
With meek, confiding air;
And hallow'd "amen" as the sire implor'd
For them the Great Keeper's care.

steep, to her folded arms,
V' rapp'd husband, child, and wife,
And throbbing pulse, and heaving breast
Were all that betoken'd life.

A sh! I was heard by all,
The started eye and aw
The gleaming eye, and the ear just caught
The subtle senn's hurra.

The lid shut o'er the eye,
The ear heard not again;
And only death stood sentry by
The red postern of the slain.

Morn smil'd as it was wont,
On upland, plain, and stream,
And thousand birds their matins sung
To the first awakening beam.

But woman's cheerful smile,
And man's exciting voice,
And childhood's gleeful laugh, no more,
In the morning, heard rejoice.

Out on the polish'd floor
Flew the ensanguin'd blood,
The babe lay in its mother's breast,
And its bruise'd lips dash'd with blood.

Upon the cold hearth-stone
The unwept virgin lay,
Crush'd in her budding loveliness,
And dash'd her opening day.

And manhood's sturdy arm
In dust was beaten down;
From youth his boast and pride were raft,
From reverend age his crown.

Will for the young and fair,
And their remorseless fate;
Will for the merry homes laid waste,
And the bosom desolate. VIATOR.

Sect. 2. And be it further enacted, That if the number of passengers so taken on board of any ship or vessel as aforesaid, or conveyed or brought into the United States, or transported therefrom as aforesaid, shall exceed the said proportion of two to every five tons of such ship or vessel, by the number of twenty passengers, in the whole, every such ship or vessel shall be deemed and taken to be forfeited to the United States, and shall be prosecuted and distributed in the same manner in which the forfeitures and penalties are recovered and distributed under the provisions of the act, entitled "An act to regulate the collection of duties on imports and tonnage."

Sect. 3. And be it further enacted, That every ship or vessel bound on a voyage from the United States to any port on the Continent of Europe, at the time of leaving the last port whence such ship or vessel shall sail, shall have on board, well secured under deck, at least sixty gallons of water, one gallon of vinegar, and one hundred pounds of wholesome ship bread, for each and every passenger on board such ship or vessel, over and above such provisions, stores, and live stock, as may be put on board by such master or passenger for their use, or that of the crew of such ship or vessel; and in like proportion for a shorter or longer voyage; and if the passengers on board of such ship or vessel in which the proportion of provisions herein directed shall not have allowance, in water, flesh, vinegar, or bread, during any voyage aforesaid, the master and owner of such ship or vessel shall severally pay to each and every passenger who shall have been put on short allowance as aforesaid, the sum of three dollars for each and every day they may have been on such short allowance, to be recovered in the same manner as seamen's wages are, or may be, recovered.

Sect. 4. And be it further enacted, That the captain or master of any ship or vessel arriving in the United States, or any of the territories thereof, from any foreign place whatever, at the same time that he delivers a manifest of the cargo, and, if there be no cargo, then at the time of making a report or entry of the ship or vessel, pursuant to the existing laws of the United States, shall also deliver and report to the collector of the district in which such ship or vessel shall arrive, a list or manifest of all the passengers taken on board the said ship or vessel at any foreign port or place; in which list or manifest it shall be the duty of the said master to designate, particularly, the age, sex, and occupation, of the said passengers, respectively, the country to which they severally belong, and that of which it is their intention to become inhabitants; and shall further set forth whether any, and what number, have died on the voyage; which report and manifest shall be sworn to by the said master, in the same manner as is directed by the existing laws of the United States, in relation to the manifest of the cargo, and that the refusal or neglect of the said master to comply with the provisions of this section shall incur the same penalties, disabilities, and forfeitures, as are at present provided for a refusal or neglect to report and deliver a manifest of the cargo aforesaid.

Sect. 5. And be it further enacted, That each and every Collector of the Customs, to whom such manifest or list of passengers as aforesaid shall be delivered, shall quarterly return copies thereof to the Secretary of State of the United States, by whom statements of the same shall be laid before Congress at each and every session.

Approved, March 2, 1819.
Collectors Office, Custom and Port of Oxford, Sept. 14th, 1831. It appears from recent information from the Hon. JOHN WILLIS, Collector.

MORNING COURIER & NEW YORK ENQUIRER.

THE Morning Courier and New York Enquirer, by JAMES WATSON WELLS & Co. in the city of New York daily and semi-weekly, on fine paper of the largest size. In its Politics it is purely Democratic, adhering to the principles and usages of the Republican Party, and advocating the re-election of General JACKSON to the Presidency. Its columns are alike devoted to Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, Morals, Literature and the Fine Arts. In morals, however, it does not act upon the creed of Fanatics or Bigots, but on the contrary, inculcates those principles of morality and religion only, which are founded upon peace and good will to all mankind—the fruit of which is tolerance and brotherly affection instead of "persecution for opinion's sake." All Bigots, Fanatics, Sunday-Mail Opposers, and Church and State-men, are opposed on principle, and their hypocrisy and machinations fearlessly exposed.

In consequence of the other Daily Papers in New York, determining not to board vessels and receive their news on Sunday, the Courier & Enquirer have lately invested nearly $4,000 in a separate News Establishment, the support of which will add about $5,000 to their annual expenses. Vessels from Europe will be boarded at sea, long before they reach the harbor, and their news disseminated through the country with more than ordinary despatch. In incurring this heavy increase of expenditure, the Proprietors look for remuneration to all who feel an interest in the affairs of the Old World, and if they have properly estimated the popular feeling in relation to this matter, they will be efficiently sustained in the course they have adopted.
It does not become them to speak of the manner in which their Editorial Department is conducted—It may be stated, however, that Assistant Editors and Reporters are employed at liberal salaries; and if the Commercial, Political, Literary, Foreign and Domestic News, were not at least equal to any other Journal, it would scarcely have acquired in the short period of five years, a greater daily circulation than any other paper in America! Yet such is the fact, that at this moment the Courier and Enquirer circulates daily in the city of New York more than one hundred per cent. more papers than any of its cotemporaries.

Daily papers sent out of the city, are not printed until 3 o'clock, P. M., when all the news received by the morning mails, or by Foreign arrivals, are inserted in a Second Edition—so that the Daily Subscribers in the country, generally receive a Morning and Evening Paper combined; and this being the only paper collecting news on Sunday, it follows of course that the news by all foreign arrivals on that day, will be found in the columns of the Courier and Enquirer only.

A Price-current and Review of the Market will be published weekly, and the Second Edition will always notice any change which may occur in the state of our market. What ever appears in the Daily Paper, will of course, also be published in the Semi-weekly.

TERMS.

Daily Paper $10 per annum. Payable in Semi-weekly Paper 4 per annum. Advance.
N. B. All Post-Masters who have no objection to act as our Agents, are requested to receive subscriptions and to transmit the money at the risk of the Publishers, at the time of ordering the paper.—It is expected that they will retain in their hands 10 per cent. of the amount received, as a remuneration for their trouble.
