

PROSPECTUS
Of a New Paper to be issued
ON SATURDAY, (at noon) IN EACH WEEK
CALLED THE GUARDIAN
AND TEMPERANCE INTELLIGENCER.

THE GUARDIAN AND TEMPERANCE INTELLIGENCER, published weekly, contains of FRANKS HATHORN DAVIDGE to be devoted to the ADVANCEMENT OF SOUND MORALS, THE ARTS AND SCIENCES, POLITE LITERATURE, &c. &c.

LONG established custom requires, that the commencement of every new periodical publication shall be ushered to the world by PROSPECTUS, setting forth in due form, the subjects of which it will treat, and the principles by which its conductors intend to be governed. In obedience to this custom, we now present ourselves to the reading public, and ask of them such patronage as their intelligent sense may deem proper to us, and no more. As it is our wish to confine ourselves to a glance at the subjects we have chiefly in view, believing it to be the wisest course not to excite over-great expectations, we have not thought it expedient to publish any prospectus upon our part to satisfy them, may draw upon us for ridicule which uniformly attends arrogant pretensions; leaving it to the public to decide, whether we shall have succeeded in our aim or not.

As "The Guardian" will be established under the immediate auspices of some of the most distinguished advocates of TEMPERANCE, we are confident that the advancement of that great cause, so essential to the permanence of our republican institutions, and to domestic peace and individual prosperity, the PRIMARY object of the paper will be to extend the influence of its salutary principles. In order to attain this desirable end, it is our wish to make "THE GUARDIAN" the medium of circulation for every description of information relative to this interesting topic, and for this purpose to "dot a dose portion of each number to communications, essays on the subject, coming from any quarter; where good wishes to the cause may give rise to them; notices of all meetings held by the friends of the system; to the proceedings of a nature throughout the country, and such statistical particulars as may be collected, showing the advancement of the cause. This may not take five or six weeks to accomplish; for though not longer than one week will elapse between the issuing of each number, yet as there is a great variety in the nature of the matter, or when two or more numbers are required to contain a whole work, the proprietor will feel himself at liberty to publish at shorter intervals—fifty-two numbers being the equivalent for five dollars.

Arrangements have been made to receive from London an early copy of every new book printed either in that most fertile, or in Edinburgh, together with the periodical literature of Great Britain. From the former we shall select the best Novels, Memoirs, Tales, Travels, Sketches, Biographies, &c. and publish them with as much rapidity and accuracy as an extensive printing office will admit. From the latter, such literary intelligence will occasionally be culled, as will prove interesting and entertaining to the lover of knowledge, and science, literature, and history. Good translated novels, to others, now out of print, may also occasionally be re-printed in our columns.

The publisher confidently assures the heads of families, that they need have no dread of introducing "The Select Circulating Library" into their domestic circle, as the gentleman who has undertaken the editorial duties, to others, and habits, adds a due sense of the responsibility he assumes in catering for an extended and moral community, and of the consequences, detrimental or otherwise, that will follow the dissemination of obnoxious or wholesome mental aliment. His situation and engagements afford him peculiar advantages and facilities for the selection of books. These, with the additional channels created by agencies at London, Liverpool, and Edinburgh, warrant the proprietor in guaranteeing a faithful execution of the literary department.

It would be supererogatory to dilate on the general advantages and conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits where ever located, but more particularly to those who reside in retired situations—they are so obvious that the first glance cannot fail to flash conviction of its eligibility.

It will be printed and finished with the same care and accuracy as book work. The whole fifty-two numbers will form a volume, well worth preservation, of 832 pages, equal in quantity to 100 papers, or five volumes, of Rees's Cyclopaedia—each volume will be accompanied with a Title-page and Index.

The price is Five Dollars for fifty-two numbers of sixteen pages each, a price at which it cannot be afforded unless extensively patronized. Payment in full is in advance. Agents who procure five subscribers, shall have a receipt in full by remitting the publisher $25 00, and a proportionate compensation for a larger number. This arrangement is made to increase the circulation to an extent which will make it an object to pay agents liberally. One of five individuals may, by uniting in their remittance. Subscribers living near agents, may pay their subscriptions to them; those otherwise situated may remit the amount to the subscriber at his expense. Our arrangements are made for the fulfillment of our part of the contract. Subscribers' names should be immediately forwarded, in order that the publisher may know how many to print of the future numbers.

Editors of newspapers who give the above three or more conspicuous insertions, will be entitled to an exchange of 25 Numbers.

A New, Cheap, and Popular Periodical,
ENTITLED THE SELECT CIRCULATING LIBRARY.
Containing equal to Fifty Volumes for five Dollars

PROSPECTUS.
IN presenting to the public a periodical entirely new in its character, it will be expected that the publisher should describe his plan, and the objects he hopes to accomplish. There is growing up in the United States a numerous population, with literary tastes, who are scattered over a large space, and who, distant from the localities whence books and literary information emanate, feel themselves at a great loss for the mental food which education has fitted them to receive. Books are cheap in our principal cities, but in the interior they cannot be procured as soon as published, nor without considerable expense. To supply this desideratum is the design of the present undertaking, the chief object of which is, to make good reading cheap, and to put it in a form that will be convenient to every man's door.

Books cannot be sent by mail, while "The Select Circulating Library" may be received at the most distant post office in the Union in from fifteen to twenty five days after it is published, at the expense of two and a half cents; or in other words, before a book could be bound in Philadelphia, our subscribers in Ohio or Vermont may be perusing it in their parlors.

To elucidate the advantages of "The Select Circulating Library" such as we propose, it is only necessary to compare it to some other publication. Take the Western Messenger for example, the Chronicles of the Commonwealth occupy two volumes, which are sold at $1.25 to $1.50. The whole would be readily contained in three numbers of this periodical, at an expense of thirty-seven cents, postage included. So that more than three times the quantity of literary matter can be supplied for the same money by adopting the newspaper form. But we consider transmission by mail, and the early receipt of a new book, as a most distinguishing feature of the publication. The subscribers will be placed on a footing with those nearest to the office, and will be supplied at their own homes with equal to about Fifty Volumes of the common London novel size for five Dollars. This may not take five or six weeks to accomplish; for though not longer than one week will elapse between the issuing of each number, yet as there is a great variety in the nature of the matter, or when two or more numbers are required to contain a whole work, the proprietor will feel himself at liberty to publish at shorter intervals—fifty-two numbers being the equivalent for five dollars.

The subscriber, proprietor of the above named establishment, respectfully informs farmers, gardeners, and the public generally, and dealers particularly, that he is prepared to execute orders in any or all of his departments, and he solicits those who feel interested in his business, to give him their address, (free of expense to him) on receipt of which he will forward to them an extra number of his paper the American Farmer, containing a full description of his establishment, and a price catalogue of Seeds, &c. for sale. In every village in the Union a quantity large or small of CHOICE GARDEN SEEDS, would find a ready and profitable sale, and the advertiser has prepared his Seed Store specially with a view to supply dealers on very liberal terms, for cash or acceptance in Baltimore, with first rate seeds, prepared and labeled, put up in boxes expressly for country dealers. He ventures to affirm, that for those who desire any of the articles comprised in his extensive establishment, there is not in the United States a more eligible place than this to apply for them, as it is a repository in which are concentrated, or may be procured in short notice, from all parts of our country (and not a few from remote parts of the earth) a vast variety, many of which are very rare and valuable seeds, plants, trees, roots, vines, domestic and foreign, books, implements, and last, though not least, a constant fund of timely and important information on almost every subject interesting to a cultivator of the soil.
