Dr. SCUDDER'S CELEBRATED EYE WATER.

For inflammation and weakness of the Eyes.

THE great advantages of this infallible remedy, places it as a general appendage to every family, and a constant vade-mecum to the traveller. This Eye Water is prepared with the greatest care, and has never been known to fail in effecting a speedy and safe Restoration of the diseased organs. It is useless to attach any certificates by way of praise or commendation; the reputation and immense sale that has attended Dr. Scudder's Eye Water, being the fairest proof of its utility and beneficial tendency. It has been the means of preserving sight to many of the afflicted, from the helpless infant to the aged parent. Numerous letters have been received by Dr S. within these few years, containing flattering remarks relative to this Eye Water—and the cures effected by it, have been sent forth as Wonderful beyond precedent.

Dr. Scudder confidently recommends it as a safe and valuable remedy—and testifies that his reputation and experience as an Oculist, will weigh against the gross impositions which are daily practised on the public by advertisements of different kinds of Eye Water, many of which are unsafe to use.

Prepared by
Dr. JOHN SCUDDER,
Oculist and Inserter of Artificial Human Eyes, City of New York, and to be had wholesale and retail, of Doct. S. W. SPENCER, Sole Agent for Dr. S. in Easton, &c.

CAROLINE COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT,
29th day of January, Anno Domini 1833.
ON application of Solomon R. Cahall, Executor of Noah Cahall, late of Caroline county, deceased—it is ordered, that he give the notice required by law for creditors to exhibit their claims against the said deceased's estate, and that he cause the same to be published once in each week for the space of three successive weeks, in one of the newspapers printed in Easton.

In testimony that the foregoing is truly copied from the minutes of proceedings of the Orphans' Court, of the county aforesaid, I have hereto set my hand and the seal of my office, this 29th day of January, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and thirty-three.

General Agricultural & Horticultural Establishment.

COMPLAINING of a Seed and Implement Store, a General Agricultural Agency, and the Office of the AMERICAN FARMER, at No. 16, S. Calvert St. Baltimore, in connection with a Stock and Experimental Farm, Garden and Nursery, in the vicinity.

The subscriber, proprietor of the above named establishment, respectfully informs farmers, gardeners, and the public generally, and dealers particularly, that he is prepared to execute orders in any or all of his departments; and he so far as they are interested in his plan to furnish him with their addresses, free of expense to them on receipt of which he will send them an extra number of his paper the American Farmer, containing a full description of his establishment, and a priced catalogue of Seeds, &c. for sale. In every volume in the Union a quantity large or small of CHOICE GARDEN SEEDS, would find a ready and profitable sale; and the advertiser has prepared his Seed Store especially with a view to supply dealers on very liberal terms, for cash or acceptance in Baltimore, with first rate seeds, prepared and labelled, but in boxes expressly for country dealers. He ventures to affirm, that for those who desire any of the articles comprised in his extensive establishment, there is not in the United States a more eligible place than this to apply for them, as it is a repository in which are concentrated, or may be procured in short order, from all parts of the country (and not a few from remote parts of the earth) a vast variety of many of which are very rare and valuable; seeds, plants, trees, roots, vines, domestic animals, books, implements, and, last, though not least, a constant and most timely and important information on almost every subject interesting to a cultivator of the soil. This is imparted weekly to subscribers for a small and moderate contribution, through the columns of the American Farmer, in which are indicated, as by and arranged, both annual and vegetable, as they are received at the establishment. The subscriber is agent also for the principal nurseries in gardens in the Union—and for several celebrated breeders of fine cattle, sheep, and other domestic animals—also for the United Society of Shakers, at New Lebanon, N. Y. a full assortment of whose celebrated garden seeds, fresh and genuine, may at all times be had from him wholesale and retail, on the best terms. Address

PROSPECTUS

Of a New Paper to be issued ON SATURDAY, (at noon) IN EACH WEEK CALLED
THE GUARDIAN
AND TEMPERANCE INTELLIGENCER.
UNDER THE EDITORIAL CHARGE OF PHILIP MACKY, OF EASTON, IN CONNECTION WITH THE ADVANCEMENT OF SOUND MORALS, THE ARTS AND SCIENCES, POLITE LITERATURE, &c. &c.

LONG established custom requires, that the commencement of every new periodical publication shall be ushered to the world by subjects of which it will treat, and the principles by which its conductors intend to be governed. In obedience to this custom, we now present ourselves to the reading public, and ask of them such patronage as their indulgent sense of our merits may assign to us, and no more. As it is much more easy to promise, than to perform, we shall confine ourselves to a glance at the objects we have chiefly in view, by using it to be the wiser course not to excite great expectations, lest any failure upon our part to satisfy them, may draw upon us the ridicule which uniformly attends arrogant pretensions; leaving it to the public to decide, whether we shall have succeeded in our aim or not.

As 'The Guardian' will not have established under the immediate auspices of some of the most distinguished advocates of TEMPERANCE, wide a view to the advancement of that great cause: so essential to the permanency of our republic institutions, and to domestic peace and individual prosperity, the PHILANTHROPIC paper will be to extend the influence of its salutary principles. In order to attain this desirable end, it is our wish to make 'THE GUARDIAN' the medium of circulation for every description of information relative to this most interesting topic, and for this purpose to allot a due portion of each number to the delivery of essays on the subject, coming from any quarter where good wishes to the cause may give rise to them; notices of all meetings held by the friends of the system; to the proceedings of societies throughout the country, and such statistical articles as may be collected, showing the advancement of the cause.

In pursuing this course, the editor is fully aware that a paper devoted to one subject, however excellent, must become tiresome, and limited in its circulation; he therefore proposes to carry out the plan of a first rate family paper, in addition to the above, which, by the variety, taste, and sound sense exhibited by its contents, selected from the best literary sources, and mingled together with the serious, the useful with the pleasant, will render it acceptable to every reader whose taste is not vitiated by the grossest self-abandonment. In order to render this paper valuable as a medium of news, domestic and foreign, so far as a weekly publication can be, summaries of passing events, at home and abroad, will be given, with notes of all new publications of importance, and such descriptions of fashions and amusements as may be harmless, and acceptable to the scholar or man of leisure.

The object of 'THE GUARDIAN' will be, to refine the taste, enlighten the understanding, and elevate the morals of its readers, to the last of which special attention will be paid. Believing that knowledge and virtue will always go hand in hand, and that in proportion as the lives of men are virtuous, will be their increased love of information and ability to enjoy the rich and ever varying stores of knowledge, which human intellect is constantly eliciting from the workings of its mature and art, and so vice versa, that as our fund of information is enlarged, will our capacity for the exquisite enjoyments that spring from a pure and elevated standard of morals, be expanded, the editor will direct any ability he may possess, to the advancement of the one and the other.

Having thus far hinted at what the editor intends to do, it may be proper for him to say what he will not do. He will not admit under any plea whatever, SECULAR RELIGION, or PARTISAN FOLLIES. He will not admit, knowingly, any thing of a personal character, or calculated to deepen the blush on the cheek of modesty, nor will he permit himself to be dictated in, as to what is advisable, and what is not, but will, so long as he is accountable for the contents of 'THE GUARDIAN' accept or reject, according to his own pleasure.

'THE GUARDIAN & TEMPERANCE INTELLIGENCER' will be published every Saturday, on paper of the best quality, a large size sheet, and with the best of every kind, and in order to bring it within the most moderate pecuniary ability, at the small price of $2 per annum, payable in advance, or $3 if paid at the end of the year.

All persons obtaining and forwarding the subscription of ten subscribers will be entitled to a copy gratis.—Orders to be addressed, postage paid, to John Duer, Esq. who is authorized to receive the same.

The publication will be commenced as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers shall have been obtained.

The undersigned respectfully recommends this paper to the patronage of the friends of TEMPERANCE in particular, throughout the State, and solicits their active exertions in obtaining subscribers.

STEVENSON ARCHER,
President State Temperance Society.
President Balt. Temperance Society.
Subscription lists will be left at the Stores of Messrs. Cushing & Son, Howard, near Market street; Coole & Littleh, Calvert street; J. apth N. Toy, Market st.

On papers which are affected to the cause will contribute, by publishing the ads, and may be assured of a return, should occasion offer.

NOTICE

IN presenting to the public a periodical entirely new in its character, it was expected that the publisher should describe his plan, and the objects he hopes to accomplish.

There is growing up in the United States a numerous population, with literary tastes, who are scattered over a large space, and who, distant from the local sources whence books and literary information emanate, feel themselves at a great loss for that mental food which education has fitted them to enjoy. Books are cheap in our principal cities, but in the interior they cannot be procured as soon as published, nor without considerable expense. To supply this desideratum is the design of the present undertaking, the chief object of which emphatically is to make good reading cheaper, and to put it in a form that will bring it to every man's door.

Books cannot be sent by mail, while 'The Select Circulating Library' may be received at the most distant post office in the Union from fifteen to twenty five days after it is published, at the trifling expense of two and a half cents, or in other words, before a book could be bound in Philadelphia, our subscribers in Ohio or Vermont may be perusing it in their parlours.

To elucidate the advantages of 'The Select Circulating Library' such as we propose, it is necessary to compare it to some other publication. Take 'The Waverley novels' for example; the Chronicle of the Canongate occupy two volumes, which are sold at $1.25 to $1.50. The whole would be readily contained in three numbers of this periodical, at an expense of thirty-seven cents postage included. So that more than three times the number of literary masters are supplied for the same money by adopting the newspaper form.—But we consider transmission by mail, and the early receipt of a new book, as a most distinguishing feature of the publication. Distant subscribers will be pleased on a footing with those nearer at hand, and will be supplied at their own homes with equal to about Fifty Volumes of the common London novel series for Five Dollars. This may take fifty-two weeks to accomplish; for though not longer than one week will elapse between the issuing of each number, yet when there is a great number are required to contain a whole work, the proprietor will feel himself at liberty to publish at shorter intervals—fifty-two numbers being the equivalent to five dollars.

Arrangements have been made to receive from London an early copy of every new book printed either in that mart of talent, or in Edinburgh, together with the periodical literature of Great Britain. From the former we shall select the best Novels, Memoirs, Tales, Travels, Scientific Biography, &c. and publish them with as much rapidity and accuracy as our extensive printing office will admit. From the latter, such literary intelligence will occasionally be culled, as will prove interesting and entertaining to the lovers of knowledge, and science, literature, and society. Distant subscribers will be supplied with new out of print standard novels, and other works, now and then, may occasionally be re-produced in our columns.

The publisher confidently assures the heads of families, that they need have no dread of introducing the 'Select Circulating Library' into their domestic circle, as the gentleman who has undertaken the editorial duties, is literary in taste and habits, and due regard will be constantly be assumed in catering for an extended and moral community, and of the consequences, detrimental or otherwise, that will follow the dissemination of obnoxious or wholesome mental aliment. His situation and engaging efforts will peculiarly advantage and facilitate the selection of books. Together with the additional channels created by agencies at London, Liverpool, and Edinburgh, warrant the proprietor in guaranteeing a faithful execution of the literary department.

It would be supererogatory to dilate on the general advantages & conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits wherever located, but more particularly to those who reside in retired situations—they are so obvious that the first glance cannot fail to flash conviction of its eligibility.

It should be supererogatory to dilate on the general advantages & conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits wherever located, but more particularly to those who reside in retired situations—they are so obvious that the first glance cannot fail to flash conviction of its eligibility.

'The Select Circulating Library' will be printed weekly on a double column sheet of fine paper in octavo form, with three columns on a page, and mailed with great care so as to arrive safely to the most distant post office.

It will be printed and finished with the same care and accuracy as book work. The whole consists of 832 pages, equal in quantity to 1200 pages, or three volumes, of Rec's Cyclopaedia.—Each volume will be accompanied with a Title page and Index.

The price is Five Dollars for fifty-two numbers of sixteen pages each.—a price at which it cannot be afforded unless extremely patronized.—
Payment at all times in advance.

Agents who procure five subscribers, shall have a receipt in full by remitting the publisher $50 00, and a proportionate compensation for a larger number. This arrangement is made to increase the circulation to an extent which will make it an object to pay agents liberally.—
Cubs of five individuals may thus procure the work for $4 00 by uniting in their remittances.

Subscribers living near agents, may pay their subscriptions at them; those otherwise situated may remit the amount to the subscriber as his expense. Our arrangements are all made for the fulfilment of our part of the contract.

Subscribers names should be immediately forwarded, in order that the publishers may know how many to print of the future numbers.

Editors of newspapers who give the above notice as most conspicuous insertions, will be entitled to an exchange of 25 Numbers.

NOTICE

IN presenting to the public a periodical entirely new in its character, it was expected that the publisher should describe his plan, and the objects he hopes to accomplish.

There is growing up in the United States a numerous population, with literary tastes, who are scattered over a large space, and who, distant from the local sources whence books and literary information emanate, feel themselves at a great loss for that mental food which education has fitted them to enjoy. Books are cheap in our principal cities, but in the interior they cannot be procured as soon as published, nor without considerable expense. To supply this desideratum is the design of the present undertaking, the chief object of which emphatically is to make good reading cheaper, and to put it in a form that will bring it to every man's door.

Books cannot be sent by mail, while 'The Select Circulating Library' may be received at the most distant post office in the Union from fifteen to twenty five days after it is published, at the trifling expense of two and a half cents, or in other words, before a book could be bound in Philadelphia, our subscribers in Ohio or Vermont may be perusing it in their parlours.

To elucidate the advantages of 'The Select Circulating Library' such as we propose, it is necessary to compare it to some other publication. Take 'The Waverley novels' for example; the Chronicle of the Canongate occupy two volumes, which are sold at $1.25 to $1.50. The whole would be readily contained in three numbers of this periodical, at an expense of thirty-seven cents postage included. So that more than three times the number of literary masters are supplied for the same money by adopting the newspaper form.—But we consider transmission by mail, and the early receipt of a new book, as a most distinguishing feature of the publication. Distant subscribers will be pleased on a footing with those nearer at hand, and will be supplied at their own homes with equal to about Fifty Volumes of the common London novel series for Five Dollars. This may take fifty-two weeks to accomplish; for though not longer than one week will elapse between the issuing of each number, yet when there is a great number are required to contain a whole work, the proprietor will feel himself at liberty to publish at shorter intervals—fifty-two numbers being the equivalent to five dollars.

Arrangements have been made to receive from London an early copy of every new book printed either in that mart of talent, or in Edinburgh, together with the periodical literature of Great Britain. From the former we shall select the best Novels, Memoirs, Tales, Travels, Scientific Biography, &c. and publish them with as much rapidity and accuracy as our extensive printing office will admit. From the latter, such literary intelligence will occasionally be culled, as will prove interesting and entertaining to the lovers of knowledge, and science, literature, and society. Distant subscribers will be supplied with new out of print standard novels, and other works, now and then, may occasionally be re-produced in our columns.

The publisher confidently assures the heads of families, that they need have no dread of introducing the 'Select Circulating Library' into their domestic circle, as the gentleman who has undertaken the editorial duties, is literary in taste and habits, and due regard will be constantly be assumed in catering for an extended and moral community, and of the consequences, detrimental or otherwise, that will follow the dissemination of obnoxious or wholesome mental aliment. His situation and engaging efforts will peculiarly advantage and facilitate the selection of books. Together with the additional channels created by agencies at London, Liverpool, and Edinburgh, warrant the proprietor in guaranteeing a faithful execution of the literary department.

It would be supererogatory to dilate on the general advantages & conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits wherever located, but more particularly to those who reside in retired situations—they are so obvious that the first glance cannot fail to flash conviction of its eligibility.

It should be supererogatory to dilate on the general advantages & conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits wherever located, but more particularly to those who reside in retired situations—they are so obvious that the first glance cannot fail to flash conviction of its eligibility.

'The Select Circulating Library' will be printed weekly on a double column sheet of fine paper in octavo form, with three columns on a page, and mailed with great care so as to arrive safely to the most distant post office.

It will be printed and finished with the same care and accuracy as book work. The whole consists of 832 pages, equal in quantity to 1200 pages, or three volumes, of Rec's Cyclopaedia.—Each volume will be accompanied with a Title page and Index.

The price is Five Dollars for fifty-two numbers of sixteen pages each.—a price at which it cannot be afforded unless extremely patronized.—
Payment at all times in advance.

Agents who procure five subscribers, shall have a receipt in full by remitting the publisher $50 00, and a proportionate compensation for a larger number. This arrangement is made to increase the circulation to an extent which will make it an object to pay agents liberally.—
Cubs of five individuals may thus procure the work for $4 00 by uniting in their remittances.

Subscribers living near agents, may pay their subscriptions at them; those otherwise situated may remit the amount to the subscriber as his expense. Our arrangements are all made for the fulfilment of our part of the contract.

Subscribers names should be immediately forwarded, in order that the publishers may know how many to print of the future numbers.

Editors of newspapers who give the above notice as most conspicuous insertions, will be entitled to an exchange of 25 Numbers.
