We publish to-day the latest accounts we have received of the Seminole hostilities in Florida. We are gratified to see it stated that Gen. Scott has started for the scene of action, accompanied by Major Van Buren as his Aid de Camp, and that he will make requisition upon the Governors of two or three of the neighboring states for troops to assist him, and that these obtained, the war will be prosecuted vigorously and the disturbance put an end to as promptly as possible.

It will be a war of virtual extermination to the Indians, who have taken up arms solely to sustain their violation of the treaty they made with the U. S. in 1832; which requires them to move west of the Mississippi in five years therefrom.

SUPREMACY OF THE LAWS.—In addition to the miserable scheme now being carried on by the anti-masonic members of the Legislature of Pennsylvania—their assumption of power in derogation of the laws of the land—in dragging men from their homes and threatening them with incarceration within the walls of a prison for resisting their unlawful power—with admirable consistency we hear Charles King of the New York American, an out and out Whig paper of course, declaring in relation to Gov. Marcey's Message, that if the Legislature should pass a law making penal the publication of incendiary publications, he will in one hour after hearing it, "set the law at defiance!" These are the open, lawless opposers of the present administration. These are the clamorous demagogues who are most noisy in crying out, defend—defend the Constitution.

A Bill has passed the Legislature incorporating the Queen Ann's County Silk Society.

THE VADE MECUM.—We are gratified to find this very interesting publication meeting with encouragement from our citizens. It is a deservedly popular and interesting paper, and merits patronage.

THE SALMAGUNDI is a good relish on a bad day—it will "drive dull care away" and make one laugh though he be up to his lips in melancholy.

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE.—We have received the last number of this periodical, which sustains its character for well selected reading matter, and neatly executed embellishments. It is a cheap work, and may be seen at our office.

THE LADY'S BOOK.—The January No. of this beautiful work is embellished with the 'Fashions'—a plate representing the Queens of Europe—the portraits of Neele and D'Israeli, and the music of a favorite Scotch melody, adapted and arranged for the Piano Forte; together with original and selected literary compositions. We particularly recommend it to our fair readers.

Miss Maria Monk—formerly a Nun—has written a book of awful disclosures about nunneries.

A young man—whose respectability prevents his name being made public—was detected in stealing in the store of Mesrs. Marsh, Capon, and Lyons, at Boston, Bible Illustrations, Talbot's Reflections, Young Man's Guide, and other pious and useful publications. He was committed to the 'Jug' by the Justices 'Guide, to brood over his ill luck without any "illustrations" or "reflections" except which were lawfully his own.

HEAR HIM!! HEAR HIM!!

A correspondent of the Boston Galaxy, writing from Baltimore, thus compares female beauty:

You know that Baltimore is famed for beautiful ladies. Well, after promenading Broadway and the Bowery in New York for a week, and strolling up and down Chesnut and Arch Streets in Philadelphia for a like period, taking particular note of every thing curious to the eye of a stranger, especially of the fair fashionables, who were forever glancing by, almost like beautiful visions of the fancy. I have indulged in the same pleasure for several days on Market street, and must certainly yield the palm to Baltimore. In one hour's walk in Baltimore, on a pleasant afternoon, you will see more really handsome women than you will meet in New York in a day or in Philadelphia in half that time. In New York the ladies dress themselves to death, but it won't do—in Philadelphia they are very neat and very elegant in carriage, and graceful in manner, but in Baltimore they combine with neatness, some elegance and great personal beauty—indeed, my heart has been well nigh lost a dozen times since I have been here, of which you have a strong evidence in my leaving the interests of the nation and the weightier matters of the law, to talk of the beautiful daughters of Eve.

Thus it appears the palm of beauty is fairly, and justly we think, yielded to the ladies of Baltimore. Hence, we claim for Maryland, the honor of producing the choicest flowers of female beauty. And while they are acknowledged the most beautiful, certainly they possess all the attributes contained within the meaning of that word; they are accomplished, gay, cheerful, not foolishly proud, and have hearts as warm as the firesides they make so delightfully pleasant by their company.

If the writer's heart had been well high lost a dozen times by looking upon the beauty that enlivens the crowded streets of Baltimore, what would have become of it in our own little town, where, in addition to beauty, he would have seen the roseate hue of health blooming among the charms of rural sweetness? He would have been entirely heartless at the first glance!

HORRID MASSACRE OF U. S. TROOPS BY THE SEMINOLE INDIANS.

The Mobile Chronicle of the 12th instant says—"By the mail-boat Mazeppa, Capt. Carson, arrived yesterday afternoon, from New Orleans, we have received the painful and distressing intelligence of the surprize and massacre of two companies of United States Troops, under the command of Major Dade, consisting of 112 men, by the Seminole Indians.

"Major Dade had started with his Troops from Tampa Bay to Camp King to join Gen. Clinch, when on the morning of the 28th December at 8 o'clock, they were surrounded by a large body of Indians, supposed to number from 800 to 1000, and were cut to pieces. Only three men of the 112 escaped, badly wounded, to recount the lamentable history of the buchery of their fellow soldiers.

"Major Dade was shot off his horse on the commencement of the attack. Captain Gardner and Fraser soon after fell mortally wounded, and their scalps were taken by the savages Lieutenants Bassinger, Henderson, Mudge and Kean, and Dr. Gatlin, Surgeon to the detachment, were all slain. Lieutenant Bassinger was wounded on the onset, and was discovered by a negro in the party of savages, crawling off to a place of concealment, and tomahawked.

"Col. Twiggs of the U. S. Army chartered the steam-boat Merchant, and started with four companies of troops from New Orleans to Tampa Bay. Major Belton is now there with the force under his command."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

January 22.

Mr. J. Q. ADAMS took the floor and spoke at great length, in defence of the House in reference to the Fortification Bill at the last session. Mr. A. alluded in very pointed terms to the speech of Mr. Webster made in the Senate on this subject. He was frequently interrupted by questions of order, but was permitted by the House to proceed. On one occasion a remark made by him against Mr. Webster, was loudly cheered and clapped by the members of the house.

Mr. J. Q. ADAMS asked leave to submit a resolution in relation to the subject referred to by the gentleman from New York

Objections being made,

Mr. MILLER moved to suspend the rules, which was agreed to by a vote of 129 to 69.

Mr. J. Q. ADAMS then offered a resolution for the appointment of a select committee to inquire and report what were the reasons which led to the loss of the appropriation bill for fortifications at the last session.

Mr. WILLIAMS, of N. C. moved to amend by adding a clause, providing that the committee have power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. WISE followed in reply, and is now going through a history of the proceeding of the House on the subject, to show that the failure of the Fortification Bill was owing not to the Senate, nor to the House, but to Mr. Cambrelling, chairman of the committee of conference between the two Houses.

January 23, 1836.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. JARVIS, from the committee on Naval Affairs, reported a bill making appropriations for completing ships of War on the stocks, and repairing those in ordinary, which was twice read and committed.

Several private bills were reported

The House then resumed the consideration of the following resolution offered by Mr. J. Q. ADAMS.

Resolved, That so much of the message of the President of the United States to Congress at the commencement of the present session as relates to the failure, at the last session of Congress, of the bill containing the ordinary appropriations for fortifications be referred to a select committee, with instructions to inquire into, and report to the House the causes and circumstances of the failure of the bill.

The question being on the motion of Mr. WILLIAMS of North Carolina, to amend the resolution by adding—"with power to send for persons and papers."

Mr. WISE, who was entitled to the floor from yesterday, resumed his speech on the resolution, and brought forward and supported charges against Mr. Cambreleng and others, for having by an intrigue for party purposes caused the loss of the fortification bill at the close of the last session. He maintained that neither the House nor the Senate were to be blamed for the failure of the bill—that they were both willing and anxious to pass it—that the committee of conference on the part of the House had determined and did intend to make a report to the House, but that Mr Cambreleng withheld the report in consequence of being informed by Mr. Forsyth that the President would not sign the bill after the reduction of the "three millions" appropriation to eight hundred thousand dollars. He made many other charges against individuals in connection with the same subject.

Mr. WISE is still on the floor (at 3 o'clock) and will probably occupy it some time longer.

The galleries are crowded to excess, many of the Senators being present. Mr. Cambreleng is preparing to reply to Mr. Wise. Deep interest is felt in the result of the subject both in and out of the House.

In Press and will soon be Published,

A PRACTICAL TREATISE ON THE CULTURE OF SILK,

Adapted to the Soil and Climate of the United States, by F. G. COMSTOCK, Secretary of the Hartford County Silk Society, and Editor of the Silk Culturist. Illustrated by Engravings.

THE interest in all parts of the United States in the Culture and Manufacture of Silk, manifested by the constant calls for information on the subject, has induced the publisher to have prepared a plain Practical Treatise on the cultivation of the Mulberry and rearing Silk Worms, adapted to the Soil and Climate of this country and to the wants of plain practical men.

The practical Culturist in this country needs a directory adapted to the Soil on which he plants his trees, and the Climate in which rears his worms; without reference to Soils and Climates less congenial to their growth. It has been therefore the object of the author to make a treatise strictly practical, omitting nothing of importance to the Culturist, and adding nothing of a useless or extraneous character:

As making the raw materials into Sewing Silk and Twist is very profitable to the Silk Grower, all necessary information for that purpose will be given.

The work will be published in a duodecimo about 100 pages, in handsome binding—price 50 cts. A part of the edition will be put up in elastic covers to be forwarded by mail.

THE SALMAGUNDI, AND NEWS OF THE DAY.

EMBELLISHED WITH A MULTITUDE OF COMIC ENGRAVINGS.

A new periodical, of a novel character, bearing the above appellation, will be commenced on the beginning of January, 1836—While it will furnish its patrons with the leading features of the news of the day, its principal objects will be to serve up a humorous compilation of the numerous lively and pungent sallies which are daily floating along the tide of Literature, and which, for the want of a proper channel for their preservation, are positively lost to the reading world. Original wits and humorists of our time will here have a medium devoted to the faithful record of the scintillations of their genius. It is not necessary to detail the many attractions which this journal will possess, as the publisher will furnish a specimen number to every person who desire it—(those out of the city will forward their orders, postage paid)—to and he pledges himself that no exertions on his part shall be wanting to make each succeding number superior in every respect to the preceding ones.

THE SALMAGUNDI will be printed on large imperial paper, equal in size and quality to that which is at present used for the Gentlemen's Vade Mecum. It is calculated that more than will be furnished to the patrons of this Journal in one year—these, in addition to an extensive and choice selection of Satire, Criticism, Humor and Wit, to be circulated through its columns, will form a Literary Banquet of a superior and attractive order; and the publisher relies with perfect confidence on the liberality of the American public, and the spirit and tact with which this expensive undertaking will be prosecuted, to bear him successfully and profitably along with it.

The terms of the Salmagundi will be TWO DOLLARS per annum, payable invariably in advance. No paper will be furnished unless this stipulation is strictly adhered to.

☞ Clubs of three will be supplied with the paper for one year, by forwarding a five dollar note, postage paid. Clubs of seven will be supplied for the same term, by forwarding a ten dollar note. ☞ The papers that are sent out of the city will be carefully packed in strong envelopes, to prevent their rubbing in the mail.

☞ THE SALMAGUNDI will be published on alternate weeks—otherwise it would be impossible to procure the numerous embellishments which each number will contain—and the general interest it will afford must be enhanced by this arrangement.

☞ All orders must come postage paid.

☞ Address, CHARLES ALEXANDER, Athenum Buildings, Franklin Place, Philadelphia.

By order of the Board,

Carey's Library

OF CHOICE LITERATURE.

To say that this is a reading age, implies a desire for instruction, and the means to gratify that desire. On the first point, all are agreed; on the second, there is diversity both of opinion and of practice. We have newspapers, magazines, reviews, in fine, pamphlets of all sizes, on nearly all subjects, which have severally their classes of readers and supporters. And yet, copious as are these means of intellectual supply, more are still needed. In addition to the reviews of the day, and passing notices of books, the people, in large numbers, in all parts of our great republic, crave the possession of the books themselves, and details, beyond mere passing allusion, of the progress of discovery in art and science. But though it be easy to ascertain and express their wants, it is not so easy to gratify them. Expense, distance from the emporium of literature, engrossing occupations which prevent personal application or even messages to libraries and booksellers, are so many causes to keep people away from the feast of reason, and the enjoyments of the coveted literary ailment. It is the aim of the publishers of the Library to obviate these difficulties, and enable every individual, at a small cost and without any personal effort, to obtain for his own use, and that of his favored friends or family, valuable works complete, on all the branches of useful and popular literature, and that in a form well adapted to the comfort of the reader.

The charm of variety, as far as it is compatible with morality and good taste, will be held constantly in view in conducting the Library, to fill the pages of which the current literature of Great Britain, in all its various departments of Biography, History, Travels, Novels and Poetry, shall be freely put under contribution. With, perchance, occasional exceptions, it is intended to give entire the work which shall be selected for publication. When circumstances, authorize the measure, recourse will be had to the literary stores of Continental Europe, and translations made from French, Italian, or German, as the case may be.

Whilst the body of the work will be a reprint, or at times a translation of entire volumes, the cover, will exhibit the miscellaneous character of a Magazine, and consist of sketches of men and things, and notices of novelties in literature and the arts, throughout the civilized world. A full and regular supply of the literary monthly and hebdomada journals of Great Britain and Ireland, in addition to home periodicals of a similar character cannot fail to provide ample materials for this part of our work.

The resources and extensive correspondence of the publishers, are the best guarantee for the continuance of the enterprise in which they are now about to embark, as well as for the abundance of the materials to give it value in the eyes of the public. As far as judicious selections and arrangement are concerned, readers will, it is hoped, have reason to be fully satisfied, as the editor of the Library is not a stranger to them, but has more than once obtained their favourable suffrages for his past literary efforts.

TERMS.

The work will be published in weekly number, each containing twenty imperial octavo pages with double columns, making two volumes annually, of more than 200 octavo pages, each volume; and at the expiration of every six months, subscribers will be furnished with a handsome title page, and table of contents. The whole amount of matter furnished in a single year will be equal to more than forty volumes of the common sized English duodecimo books, the cost of which will be at least ten times the price of a years subscriptions to the Library. The paper upon which the Library will be printed, will be of the finest quality used for book-work, and of a size admirably adapted for binding. As the type will be entirely new, and of a neat appearance, each volume, when bound, will furnish a handsome, as well as valuable, and any conspicuous addition to the libraries of those who patronise the work.

The price of the Library will be five dollars per annum payable advance.

A commission of 20 per cent. will be allowed to agent, and any agent or postmaster forwarding five subscribers and remitting the amount of subscription shall be entitled to the commission of 20 per cent or a copy of the work for one year.

A specimen of the work, or any information respecting it may be obtained by addressing the publishers post paid. Address,

E. L. CAREY & A. HART, Philad'a.
