Concerning the trade in market the New York Engineering and Mining Journal says:

The bituminous trade is very active, and the standard coals are selling at full prices, and are in demand exceeding the ability to deliver. There is nothing new in the arrangements for next year. It is, of course, hoped that they will materialize and that when they are made they will be better observed than this year. No doubt the question will be discussed for some months yet, and in due time (the heaviest contracts being mostly taken), the new arrangements will be announced as in past years. We continue our prices, which are fully maintained in current business: $2.60 f. o. b. Baltimore and Georgetown, and $3.25 for New York Harbor.

And the Mining Record of same city:

The bituminous market has continued to be active, and the output correspondingly larger with prices better than last year. Here the demand for shipment is reported larger than the immediate available supply.

Death of Mrs. Davis.—Mrs. David Davis, of this place, died Saturday night last. She leaves five children, three daughters and two sons, all grown. The funeral, which took place Tuesday afternoon from the Welsh Baptist church, was largely attended. Rev. William Haddock was the officiating minister. The interment was at Allegany cemetery.

Journalistic.—The Lonaconing Star enters its third year this week. An editorial review of its career furnishes the satisfactory information that it occupies a solid and durable base for future usefulness and success—to both of which we believe it is "marching on."

Harry C. Brace, formerly of this county, is business manager of the Kansas City (Mo.) Evening Penny-Post. He is bright enough to be its editor.

LOCALS IN MINION.

Publications.—Mexico is so completely an unknown land to most people that it is well to have a little insight into its history. "Our Neighboring Republic and its Presidents," in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for December, fully illustrated, gives a connected view and portraits of all who have been at the head of the Mexican Republic from the days of Hidalgo. "The Silver King," by A. S. Southworth, will come as a revelation to some of our anglers and sportsmen, who have lived in ignorance of that monstrous Florida herring, the Tarpon, and the sport that attends its capture. "How American Plate-glass is Made" describes an industry in which our skill and energy have put on the market a beautiful and perfect article. In "The Fairfaxes of Virginia" we read of one of the few titled families in the United States, showing that a real English baron of famous pedigree is an American by birth and feeling. Horace Townsend relates, very pleasantly, in "Animals and their Trainers," much that is interesting about the way in which birds and animals are brought to act as performers "Michael Angelo," by W. W. Story, gives a true artist's estimate of the great sculptor and painter of Italy. Baldwin's recent descent with a parachute gives occasion to some illustrations and description of that dangerous invention. In the line of fiction, "Irma," a continued novel; "The Woman He Loved," by Eben E. Rexford; "Joycelyn;" "A Memorable Stage-ride," by Mrs. Emma S. Allen; "Grace," "The Romance of a Rug" and "The House Opposite" are all very clever, and will interest each class of readers. The young folk will be delighted with the continuation of "Daisy's Dilemmas." Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly, in excellence and extent of matter and illustration, is unrivaled.

The November number of Our Little Ones opens with an interesting article, "A Great Day in Paris." "The Little Actors" is a charming story of how seals can be taught to perform various tricks. "The Chamois Mother," "Jack and the Parasol," "Little Joe's Temptation," are all entertaining. Russell Publishing Co., 36 Bromfield St., Boston, Mass.

Time was when baby's mother had it all her own way in the management of the nursery; the father is now equally aroused and bent on having his say. He has it in the November number of Babyhood, which devotes considerable space to the "Fathers' Parliament," a department that, it is safe to say, is not inferior in interest to any other in this indispensable mothers' magazine. The "Nursery Problems" in the current issue are also particularly valuable. The medical editor, Dr. L. M. Yale, Lecturer on the Diseases of Children at Bellevue Hospital, answers, in his usual careful way, queries concerning symptoms of rickets, on stimulating the growth of hair, on average weight and height, on the withholding of necessary knowledge from girls, on the proper amount of food, etc., etc. "The Prevention of Nervousness in Children," Dr. W. L. Carr, treats of a subject the importance of which it is difficult to over estimate. There are also "A Physician's Hints to Observing Mothers," by Dr. H. L. Wood, editorial comments on the value of asses' and goat's milk, on precocious children, etc. The mothers themselves discuss in an entertaining way the troublesome children of our neighbors, a cure for thumb-sucking, the art of keeping children still in bed, the way of conquering an obstinate baby and many other topics. 15 cents a number; $1.50 a year. Babyhood Publishing Co., 5 Beekman St., New York. The JOURNAL and Babyhood can be obtained jointly for $2.50 per year.

Babyland is the one magazine in the world that combines the best amusement for babies and the best help for mothers. Emilie Poulsson will contribute the stories of some of "Baby's Benefactors," being the tale of the flax and how it furnished linen for baby; of the lamb, the toymaker, etc. Many pictures by Mr. L. J. Bridgman. "Baby Bunting's Neighbors" verse and pictures both by Margaret Johnson, will tell about the strange babies of different nations. Dainty stories, tender poems, gay jingles, pictures beautiful, pictures funny, will fill each number. Large type, heavy paper, pretty cover, twelve times a year—and all for only 20 cents. Sample copy 5 cents. D. Lothrop Company, Boston, Mass.

The JOURNAL acknowledges a copy of Charles Cashel Connolly's work entitled "Songs of the Celt." Mr. Connolly is a resident of Piedmont, W. Va., which invests his literary achievement with considerable local interest. The book on our table is a volume of 188 poems, covering 408 pages, beautifully printed and bound. The poems comprise all subjects—religious, patriotic, sentimental and practical—and evince considerable talent. The quotation below is from "November:"

Up in yonder field of stubble
Some turkeys hold a meeting,
Th' fat ones stare agape with trouble
As a gobbler stands relating:
"Thanksgiving's day is coming on,
So look sharp what you're about,
Certain it is the fattest one
Will roast with its insides out."

"Does Newspaper Poetry Pay?" "Memory Culture," "The Commonplaceness of Anonymous Journalism," "The Private Scrap-Book," "The Toils of Authorship," and "Authors' Wives" are titles of some of the interesting and helpful articles in the November Writer. This bright Boston magazine for literary workers will begin its third volume with the January number. It is the only periodical in the world devoted solely to explaining the practical details of literary work, and it has met with phenomenal success. The price of the Writer is ten cents a number, or one dollar a year, and its address is P. O. Box 1905, Boston, Mass.

Our Little Men and Women, 1888, is the magazine for little folks beginning to read for themselves. Mrs. M. F. Butts has written a new story in twelve parts entitled "Patchy and Hippity-Hop." It will have a dozen delightful full-page pictures. "Boy Bob's Menagerie" will picture many animals, and give Bob's peculiar account of them. Mrs. Clara Doty Bates will contribute a dozen poems about "Dame Nature's Elves," the real elves. Many pictures by Mr. L. J. Bridgman. There will be stories of home and foreign life, games, sports, some Western floral wonders, little "pieces to speak," and seventy-five full-page pictures, besides no end of smaller ones. Twelve times a year, and all for only $1. Sample copy 5 cents. D. Lothrop Company, Boston, Mass.

CORRECTED!

SOME persons have reported and others believed that I intend removing from here.

In order to set everyone right I would emphatically say

THIS IS A MISTAKE!

I am here to stay, and have just returned from the eastern markets with the largest most fashionable, and cheapest stock of

CLOTHING,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
CARPETS, OILCLOTHS TRUNKS, SATCHELS, HATS AND CAPS,

Ever brought to a single establishment in our county. Moreover, as I am cramped for room to store all my goods, I will sell every article at about 6 per cent. profit—at least for the next thirty days.

I have not time nor space to put all on paper; therefore, I have mentioned but a few articles in order that you may appreciate and realize that all should come—not wait, but come at once and examine goods and prices. No one in want of goods, will leave my store without buying, but you should come right along before the rush begins and the assortment is broken.

☞All persons coming by rail buying goods of me will have their fare paid both ways.

Don't forget that my place is opposite C. F. Nickel's furniture store—the first clothing store as you come from the depot. Thankful for past favors, I am respectfully,

May 12 M. WINELAND.
