F EXPENSES AT THE PARSONAGE SEMINARY.

October 1st, and ending April 15th,	$48 94½
- - - - - - - - -	27 53
ay 1st, and ending August 31st,	31 05½
- - - - - - - - -	17 47
	$125 00

will, at the end of the Winter session, be equally divided among the members of the school.
d one dollar and twenty-five cents.
ng, washing, mending, and candles for study.
e premises, and when desired, will be furnished at the following prices:

- - - - - - - - -	$7 34
- - - - - - - - -	4 66
- - - - - - - - -	1 80
- - - - - - - - -	1 20
inter session, - - - - - - - - -	2 44
sion, - - - - - - - - -	1 56

payment is expected at the beginning, or at farthest, by the middle, and for tuition, at any time between the middle and session.

THE PRINCIPAL keeps on hand a supply of class books, which he furnishes to his students at the lowest city prices. As it may, however, be more agreeable to some to provide books and stationery for themselves—which he would prefer, as it would relieve him of much trouble and expense—the following list of books used in his Seminary, is subjoined as a guide to them in doing so.

Davidson's, or Philadelphia Latin Grammar
Ross's Latin Vocabulary, (edition of 1806)
Corderii Colloquia
Historiæ Sacræ
Viri Romæ
Cæsar's Commentaries
Ovid
Virgil
Terence
Livy
Horace
Grotius De Veritate Christianæ Religionis

Farrand's Translation of Wettenhall's Greek Grammar
Howard's Greek Vocabulary
Greek Testament
Græca Minora
Græca Majora
Homer
Mair's Introduction
Neilson's Greek Exercises

Olney's Geography

Murray's Grammar
Jess's American Tutor's Assistant
Keith on the Globes
Playfair's Euclid
Hutton's Mathematics
Hedge's Logic
Cavallo's Philosophy
Paley's Philosophy
Blair's Lectures

Bible and Prayer Book.