

to you that until any provision shall increase, the disposition of any part of my funds, in any other way than that mentioned, is altogether impracticable.

I will pay this debt - the principal at my rate; altho' it is hard, under the circumstances, that I should have it to do. My poor Father has imposed other obligations upon me besides this.

I would not have you infer from this that I am disposed to ~~resent~~ him - On the contrary - I thank my God that it is in my power to aid in making him comfortable in his declining years.

Please pardon me

for not having sent you an immediate reply.

Very Respectfully
W. A. Gray
