CURRENT HISTORY

"It ought to be read as a text-book in every common and high school, as well as every academy and college."
GEO. P. FISHER, Treasury Dept., Washington.
"It is a magazine that I prize highly and cannot afford to do without."
A. E. WINSHIP, Editor Journal of Education.
"A useful, timely and high-class publication. I am much struck with the variety of solid information you manage to condense into so small a compass."
PRES. J. G. SCHURMAN, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.
