THE BREEDERS' SYRINGE

MANUFACTURED AND PATENTED BY

W. Cameron, Albion, Mich.

Used and Indorsed by all Prominent Stock Owners and Breeders.

It is of but recent date that the Breeders have conceived the idea of the introduction of the semen from a stallion to a number of mares artificially, with the use of but one service. But there has never been a complete instrument for accomplishing the purpose until the Breeders' Syringe was brought before the public. It is made of the finest of steel, plated, is 26 inches long, and has an attachment for the taking up of a dilated womb, a lesion that is considered obstinate and uncertain in breeding. Any person can use it, and every breeder should have one. It has proven successful in all cases where a dilated or weak womb, etc., where the services of the stallion direct has proven unsuccessful, because it places the semen up into the womb, and has an attachment so as it can be left, keeping the womb closed for any time desired. It also avoids trouble, risk and expense of shipping a mare to the place where the stallion is owned. A risk dreaded by the owners of good mares, who often desire to breed to a good sire at a distance, but do not wish to take the risk of sending the mare away, and for the same reason use an inferior stallion at home. Whereas, by the use of the Breeders' Syringe, the semen can be obtained from the stallion withdrawn from a mare just bred, and taken or sent sealed to any part of the United States, as it has proven fertile after the lapse of twelve days. It will live in any temperature, from 112 to freezing point. And a great feature is that it saves the vital forces of the stallion. Hear what authority has to say. Dr. H. S. Smith, V. S., of Albion, Mich., writes the following:

To whom it may concern:

GENTLEMEN—I have used the Breeders' Syringe in a number of cases where direct service of the stallion had proven fruitless, with the best results, and can recommend it as one of the most perfect instruments for the purpose made.

Full instructions given with each instrument.

New Breaking Device.

Can be attached to any Cart in ONE MINUTE.

Must be seen and used to be appreciated.

Works on either side without changing a bolt, or boring a hole in the shaft. Can be used with or without Shaft, which hangs on a hinge, hence no weight on colt's back. This device has been improved since cut was made, and now fastenes to one shaft only, and we guarantee it to attach to any make of cart. Can break your yearlings to harness and shafts without any danger. Can be used with breeching on colt, which is a great advantage, as it keeps colt up in place, and from hitting wheel. This device is in use by some of the largest and best breeders in the land. Send for descriptive catalogue and testimonials. Read what the owner of Kremlin 2:07 1/2, says:

"I have used F. M. Merrick's Colt Breaking Device with all my colts this season, and think it an excellent thing."
