

Johnston requires. All he can demand, is his seventh of that property, and as you know, it must be determined by the Court, whether a sale is advisable, or no, and he must have as soon as practicable Anna's portion. I have written to Wick, that I have Mr Cummings address, and begged him to acquaint himself, with all the proceedings necessary for a sale, or division. I expect to go with him, and very likely Mr Johnston will join us, so there will be no necessity for you to accompany us. You know we have waited for you, for nearly six years, and we cannot afford to wait any longer. I believe the children have got thousands, by this long delay. James H. Goldsboro's Administration accounts are in the Court, in Eastern, and I have written a lawyer, in that town, to overlook them. That part of all this perplexing business, must be attended to immediately, as some land must be sold, and you know the very large amount of interest accumulating in that quarter.

Yours

E. S. Goldsborough.
