

I wrote to you by Friday that Margaret had gone to Mr Thompson but he did not think ^{her} able to be of any use to him and sent her home again where she is yet I don't think she will be fit to go out this winter her face is much swelled. I have filled the Ice house up above the sills. I am requested by Mr Girwood our school teacher to ask if you will let ^{him} have a room at the house I told him the house was occupied by your family part of the year and I thought you would not be desirous me to say that he could vacate it at that time why he wishes to go there.
I know not I mention it at his request. I will also say that if you see proper to let him come he will want to keep a horse here and will want Phips to do some cooking for him, for Charlatan &c he refers you to Gen Trenchard Thilghman of Oxford neck

The stock are all well at this time. I send you the acct left here by Mr Purdy also Mr Childs note there is four guineas for you of my wifes raising

Margaret is nearly blind from the swelling of her face and has chills the rest of us are as well as usual

Very Respectfully

William Gallensons
