Alder, vs. Beall 11. Gill, & J. 123. Taggart, vs. Bouldin & Thayer 10 Md. 104.
In concluding this branch of our argument we beg leave, respectfully to call Your Honor's attention to the fact that Mr. Perkins, who is really the prime-mover in this litigation has passed his final account as executor of Judge Chambers's estate that the estate has already been divided up, and his or her share assigned to each, and that Mr. Perkins himself, now holds Helen's portion as her guardian. We respectfully submit, that under this state of the case, it is too late for him or indeed for any of the Petitioners who were fully aware of these things and accepted their portions with full knowledge of them, to interpose, now, objections to the guardian turning this property over to the
