

Records, brought from England in 1661 by Richard Tilgman the in the possession of Colonel Richard Cooke Tilgman of Queen and, mention all the individuals named in the annexed Genea-and before that time, with the exception of the first three

The Histories of Kent, carry back the Pedigree to the the third, at which time the family was seated at Holway ish of Snodland. "Upon a serious perusal of the evidences which did relate to this Mansion" [says Philipote, at page Cantianum, published in 1659.], "I found it, as high as they the reign of Edward the Third [1327 to 1377], to be the Inherimans, and several very old Panes of Glasse are coloured with that the Tilgmans are entered with in the last Visitation of Name was the Possession for many Descents at page 191 of the 2 Volume of his of Coloway Court, says, "Richard Tilgman possessed Henry the Fourth (1399 to 1413). He bore for his Arms - Per fess, -

- Lion rampant, regardant, double queued, Counterchanged, they were painted in very old glass in the windows of this House, dants it continued down to Edward Tilgman, who was sire," - the seventh on the List. Hasted then proceeds

