Lady Clifden was the favorite at 100 to 70 against the field and she won easily. John Hartman who rode her, having received orders to make it as fine as possible, pulled her back each heat, and won it hard in hand. Lady Clifden was then taken on to Camden with the intention of starting her for the four mile purse. The weather proved very inauspicious and it was with reluctance she was entered by Col. Johnson, she was, however, entered against Mingo, 'the champion of the North' and Decatur who had gathered laurels by beating the previous week at the Central Course, Atalanta and Cippus in the four mile race - the course being very heavy and from the style in which he won the race establishing Decatur as a "mud horse". Camden, N.J., May 28, 1937, Jockey Club Purse $1,000, free for all ages, four mile heats-

Gen. C. Irvines, b. h. Mingo by Eclipse-Day Bet by Thornton's Rattler 6 yrs., 121 lbs.	2 dist.

The track was in the worst possible order being knee-deep in many parts of it and was made on the back stretch of stiff mud. Bets 5 to 4 on Mingo against the field and 2 to 1 against either of the others. The first heat was won by Lady Clifden, after a beautiful struggle with Mingo; Decatur merely running to save his distance. On the back stretch she stumbled two or three times in the stiff mud, where Mingo always passed her but on the better portions of the track she soon regained her ground and won the heat handily. The second heat was won by Decatur easily, by several lengths, Mingo was stopped in the third mile, having tired down in the clay. Bets
