

THE EXAMINER: I got your point, Mr. Whitely, but 38, 1914.

are unfair methods of competition under the Act of September have an opportunity to determine whether or not these acts of course, pleaded in the complaint, the Commission then can if any of these acts be among those proved in this case and, offering this device to show what acts are enjoined so that introduced in evidence to show the public interest and I am the Public Statutes providing certain practices are often course, tend to prove the public interest and, of course, findings of the court that these acts were unfair would, of

I would say, and similar acts are proved in the case the acts to be unfair methods of competition or to be unfair

If a court of competent jurisdiction has held certain cases and decided.

in the public interest before it will issue a finding to determine that the proceedings be brought before it are brought this document and that is that the Commission, of course, must observation with regard to the competency and relevancy of MR. WHITELY: I would like to make one further

THE EXAMINER: Yes, at the final hearing.

the final hearing?

MR. SMITH: It will not be actually argued until argument on that point.

MR. WHITELY: You can be heard at the final