

suit which was tried was the case of Humphreys v. Hubbard.

Q Who was Humphreys?

A He was the solicitor who obtained the option from Mrs. Hubbard.

MR. SMITH: If the Examiner please, we object to this witness telling us about these lawsuits which are matters of records and which can be proven properly and correctly in other ways. I have never heard of a witness being allowed to testify the result of a lawsuit.

THE EXAMINER: The witness can tell the general knowledge he has in reference to a lawsuit, Mr. Smith, and this is a matter of knowledge, if he has such knowledge. I don't think, Mr. Whiteley, you are especially interested in such detailed recital.

MR. WHITELEY: I want to pursue it very briefly and get the facts. I am not going to, of course, attempt to prove any of the court records. I merely want this witness, who I understand has first-hand knowledge of these facts, as he was on the ground, to state them.

THE EXAMINER: My only concern is this, Mr. Whiteley; and that is that the Demerara Bauxite Company is a foreign corporation not mentioned in this complaint.

MR. WHITELEY: One hundred per cent subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America and part of that company.

MR. SMITH: Not a part of that company.
