

that money?

A Mr. Humphreys was to get the money and he offered to compensate me for my expenses down to British Guiana on that trip because he said he felt that I had been unfairly treated.

Q By whom?

A By Mr. Humphreys.

Q And hadn't you been fairly treated?

A Well, in other words, he kept me down in British Guiana for several weeks. I went up and looked at the property believing he had an option which he was preparing to turn over to me and when I returned I found out that the option was his and he was negotiating the sale between the Demerara Bauxite Company and himself.

THE EXAMINER: Did you consider you had been double-crossed by him?

A That is rather a strong word to use.

THE EXAMINER: It is a good old English word.

A And it covers the situation very nicely.

BY MR. SMITH:

Q Well, you had been sent to British Guiana by the Ullstein's had you not?

A I was sent out by the Ullstein's to Venezuela primarily for the Venezuela negotiations, failing there I was to go to
