

correspondence or not.

Q Didn't you come back ^{to} the United States believing that the Demerara Bauxite Company had acquired these two properties?

A Quite right.

Q When did you get that knowledge.

A I must have gotten it before I left British Guiana.

Q Now when you got back and reported to your employers they had a lawyer by the name of Abrams, didn't they?

A No, sir.

Q Do you know any lawyer by the name of Abrams that participated in this transaction?

A I do not.

Q Am I wrong on the name, or are we just quibbling on the name?

A No, you are quibbling on the fact that he was a lawyer.

Q Oh, what was he, Mr. Emery?

A An ordinary business man.

Q And he in some way unearthed the fact that Mr. Humphreys had at some time acted as attorney for this Mrs. Hubbard, didn't he.

A I don't remember him doing that.

Q Who did unearth that fact?

A I discovered that fact.

Q After you got back to the United States?
