ROANOKE, VA.

Oct. 2, 1912.

Dear Lloyd:

I acknowledge with thanks your letter of October the first, with enclosed check for $3.00. This remittance covers interest on all notes due up to and including October first, 1912. I am returning to you the old notes and shall be glad to combine the several notes which you have outstanding into one, dating it three months from November first. This will make the whole indebtedness come due February first, 1913. If you can arrange to take up the note at that time, I will appreciate it, as I have plans for the spring which will tax my resources to the utmost.

Business is good and I like the location very much. Mother is coming down to pay me a visit of several weeks and I expect her next Sunday. Anything you can do to get her off on schedule time will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,
B
