

for a while, Mother will have regained her strength and her condition will be much improved. It is a 100% better than when she came, but she is far from normal yet. We both know that she is too good a Mother to let circumstances impose on her, especially in view of the faithful-ness with which she has served us all for so many years. If you are not in this vicinity, you cannot, of course, come in and talk over the matter with me in person. It is a hard one to write about and for that reason, I had rather you see me than undertake the proposition in a letter.

Sincerely, your brother,
