

Sir Rob! Wilson says that the Horses used in Egypt by the Arab and Mameluke Cavalry are small and exceedingly ordinary nags - that the fine Arabian Horse is very scarce there - that he saw but one or two in all his expedition though that Country - There were noble Animals, and when certifified by the Sheriffs of Mecca that they are of the true old Saracen Blood, they will command there 4 or 500 £ Sterling.
