Mr. E. B. Emory

Dear Sir

I recd your letter in regards to the death of the Colt. I am verry sorry that the Colt got killed I would not of cared if it had died from being sick. it looks to me that some one is to blame I sent the mare to you thinking that she would be properly looked after when she foaldd. but is verry evident that she was not. if she was cross to her Colt it was your place to notify me. I am satisfied if I had of had the mare here and she
