

gated, prompt and gentle and a fine driver. You know she was blissfully and ruined. I didn't suppose she would ever be worth anything for driving purposes & I did nothing to do with the breed but as I could not sell her for one tenth of her worth in that condition that is why I am breeding horses. I am not prepared for the purpose it is only a dead expense all the time and there can possibly be no gain in it. I thought as long as I had one I would try again and get a pair full brothers &c but I feel greatly discouraged. You know what the more is how would you trade with for more. Remembering I have & hundred invested therein, I couldn't think of buying any more horses to pay board on. If you will consider the proposition write me If not I'll return the mare in the Spring Yours truly
