

could do for her though she stood up and looked until the day - died
she had not any left and that I really
not. I see what it was but I am sure there was
that there was a disease of the called many diseases called by me which I did not know the name of. I am sure I lost of her freedom when she was taken away
and I have not much to do with the cause of her death. I am sure she was a good one as I think I never owned
better one at her age
large yet black and
fair and I want to breed her back as soon as I can. I have no use for the more
