

gave her a good solid blister, She was a little lame before blistering, but since then, has never shown any until I last rainy spell, which I think was occasioned by allowing her to stand in her stall too long without exercise. This mare never had harness on her until I got her, she drives nicely double. Never was in single harness.
I wish you would drive her moderately so as not to allow her to stand too long, if you find it prudent to do so, provided you have the time, I think if the leg holds out, she will trot well, and if you do not wish to keep her after you think she is in heat, I will send for her and use her moderately in my practice. In April I expect to offer for sale, one filly out of Harry Green, coming five years old, that never was on a track ~~thirty times~~, but trotted in 2-4 p
