

Dear Sir

Joseph Turner,

Lumber, Shingles, &c.

Chestertown, Md. 3/24 1892

I regret very much your absence from Home when "Becebia" landed the Lumber — as I fully intended the Captain to leave you off the other Hooves — but never thought of your being away from Home hence wrote you instructions and gave him...

SEND IN A CLUB.

CHICAGO, MAY 2, 1892.

THE HORSEMAN will be sent from the time subscriptions are received after this date until the last issue in October, 1892, to new subscribers, in clubs of five, for one dollar each. Please note the conditions require that the names must be sent in clubs of five or more and must be those of new subscribers. By new is meant those whose names are not now on our subscription list. It is immaterial whether the addresses of the five names are the same postoffice or five different ones. Forward $5.00 by money order, express order, draft or registered letter and THE HORSEMAN will be sent until the last issue in October, 1892, to any five names where foreign postage is not required.

This is the same proposition that has been made by THE HORSEMAN for several seasons past. During the racing season of 1892, THE HORSEMAN will be more interesting and complete, if possible, than ever before. Every horse lover wants the best turf paper published and this proposition places it within the reach of all. Thousands of names will be added to our subscription list and the breeding interest will thus be benefited by the increased circulation of the best of turf literature. Clubs need not necessarily be limited to five. Make them ten, fifteen or even twenty, and send one dollar for each name. It can easily be done.

Subscriptions sent in on this proposition will begin with the issue of the week the names are received. Back numbers cannot be supplied.

PLEASE HAND THIS OFFER
TO A FRIEND
IF YOU CANNOT USE IT.
