Dear Sir,

Your mare is well, now gaining weight in flesh, and seems to be in good condition in every respect. I got your receipt about 10 days after your arrival. Ever since she has been in your place we have given her fully appreciating the fact that she had not yet attained her growth, and that the additional tax of raising a colt would be trying to her. Last summer we removed her from all the good-mares and turned her with our yearling on the best grass we had. In the fall she was fat, but when put entirely upon dry feed, she seemed to shrink and just when you were here was not looking it her best, which we very much regret, as it may have given
