

we start to locate.

I have been feeling first rate since I got up here. So don't bother about me a bit.

We are not exactly in the mountains. But we have the pleasure of looking at them all around us.

At present we are camped at the foot of Sugar Loaf which is 2700 ft high. & this is just south of us. We have Backbone Ridge on the north & the Magazine & Polaris Mountains on the east.

You know railroads do not appreciate scenery. So we have spent most of our time climbing up & down streams so as to hit the low places.
