RECEIVED

me to a supper and a dance on Dec. 12. The first of the subscription dances comes on Friday of this week, so we are well provided till Christmas, with dancing.

I expect that this week will be a hard one for me, as I have a lot of chemistry to do before Thursday and a debate to prepare for Wednesday. I feel rather nervous about the debate, as I don't know much about the question, and it is one that can't be looked up easily, by studying the history of some country. For the question as to whether a despotic form of government is the best one for Russia can be studied by brushing up your knowledge of history.

The question I have to debate on is:
Resolved: that less than the whole
