party till then.

Accordingly, please invite Ethel Hart to Clem's party, as Clem has invited me and told me to have thee invite one more girl.

Be sure to send me word if thee does not approve at all of letting me have my choice.

I called on Professor de Sumichrast to-night with Edward, and later in the evening went down-stairs to call on my adviser. He was very agreeable, but could not give me new advice about the best way of getting excused for Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving.

I am going to the Recorder soon and have the momentous question decided.

I weighed myself the other day, with all my clothes on, and tipped the scales at $135\frac{1}{2}$ lbs., a gain of about eight pounds since September. With much love I am Thy Son, Edward.
