

S. R. CONREY, General Agent.
1933 Market Street, Philadelphia. Pa.

~~Philadelphia, Pa.,~~ Strawtown, Pa., Jan 11-1900.

My darling Alice,

I hope to reach New York tomorrow night - when I feel sure one of your lovely letters will be waiting for me - I hope and pray every thing is moving along smoothly - I arrived here at 9 P.M. in a driving hail and since then - it commenced about three P.M. - and has kept it up continuously - so far I feel no bad effects - yet I have made up my mind not to write you a long letter. yet to bid adieu - as I had a miserable bed last night - O that I could be with you all the time when I would have comfort - I must say Good night - God bless you and the children your loving
Hubbard -