My darling Alice,

I did not reach Stad York last night - in fact nearly 10 PM - as the train was detained in the Snow Storm - thank goodness it is clear today - but it is quite cold - I suppose this is the commencement of all sorts of weather - I read your letters last night - and they were a great comfort to me - I have made up my mind not to devote myself to work on Sundays as I have been doing in the past - you surely wanted rain for the wheat - as dry weather in this time hurts wheat almost as much as continual freezing and thawing - I hope the crops will not be disappointed - for they will surely understand the lessons in the 4th & 5th grades - I pray you will get on all right. I look for him to show up before long - as he does in every thing else - the system - is enough to wear any child out - yet we can not change it and our children will have to endure it - I would give a great deal to be with you all today and enjoy "The Knighthood was in Flower" - I now expect to be too old to enjoy beautiful language if it is here - I think you is a wonderfully appreciative fellow - when you read "There is decidedly the brightest I have ever seen for his age - I hope you will get your corn seed sowed early -
