My darling Alice,
I have just signed the order you sent me also of J. H. Hordfords - and sent it to him direct - that you may not be bothered with it - I fear you have been expressing your self to much since you have been seeding the oats and clover seed - it has been fearfully ran here and I have been about used up - yet I have kept going all the time and to night I feel much better as I do not have any pain in my head - rolling would have been a good thing for the seed and it would wash the corn stalks down. the fine manure will surely do the clay hill good - and if you can get clover to growing on it that it will be made - The side boards on the wagon is only to keep the manure from falling off - I am sorry to hear Fletchers father is so sick - I hope he will soon be
