PHILADELPHIA, PA May 9, 1900

My darling Alice, I was out with my agent at this point - about 9 P.M. - and I did not get a chance to write you last night - while I am waiting for him this morning I will write you a few lines.
We had it very warm yesterday afternoon but we had a quiet last night - and it is lonely and cool this morning - yet it looks as if we might have some more rain - I do hope you may have good weather where you are at the Fishers - and I pray it may give you some relief from the burden of life - I really am feeling now like my dear Anne I have for weeks I found the children are looking up for the trip. I hope Fletcher is still improving - I will get no bad news tomorrow when I will expect to get a letter from you - you are from Anne
