New York - May 27, 1900,

My darling Alice,
Upon my arrival here yesterday I found your letter - which was a great comfort to me - I am delighted to hear you are about through with house cleaning, and I know it looks lovely today - how I would love to be with you - instead, I have been writing all day and putting up my expense account which is always a small job -

I know your room looks lovely how I would enjoy it if I was home - I will be home some next Saturday - and I will put the room up while home - but it will not be possible for me to remain home over Monday - as it is a drive with me until after Harrow - but thank goodness it is not very long until I will have a week or two with you - when I will enjoy every minute of it
