

any man, who would suffer such weapons to be used in his cause. Your communication displays ignorance, falsehood, disappointment, malignity, pusillanimity, &c. — what shall I not add to the catalogue? Were the vocabulary of our language searched from beginning to end, every term of evil import that could be found, might be adduced to swell the scroll of your offences. Could it be believed that it was the production of your ignorance only, there would be something to palliate it. But, it is, evidently, the effusion of a heart disturbed with many unhallowed passions. — Therefore, as one who presumes to dictate to the people, you deserve to be lashed with the severest thong in the scourge of publick approbation.

A dissent. Repub.
