

shall sail as well as Royal Oak nothing can prevent me from being with you in June I like your plan of going better than Marseilles, I think it excellent but I hope you and I will manage it ourselves this year - I begin to be sorry for his blindness he will be much censured and deservedly in some things, but his success many would be admired, the enterprise, you know that I never did, but the total want of management for supplies is intolerable. He I envy for it, we are very happy on this ready Island - Lambert is not the man for command, he is trifling -
