

without your further personal instructions,
The Field belonging to the Butcher of House Does, he has had the conscience to ask £1200 for. Mr Morris says, that a jury would probably award £1000 for it. However I have dropt all intention of purchasing at that price. - Should the exchange of prisoners with the States, become general it will very much cramp our operations, for I depended upon the Prison for artificers.
Probably you could send us a few House Carpenters & Masons. -

I could manage to keep up the provisions & water of the Ships in Boston Bay, very well throughout the Summer, but there will be some difficulty about the Lunars necessities, altho' probably not an insurmountable one.

Believe me, My dear Sir, with much respect & esteem, Yours very faithful & obed<sup>t</sup> Serv<sup>t</sup> Geo: Grenville
