

occasional convoys with ships assembled here, I named the 13th of next month as the most eligible time for the convoy sailing: whatever alterations you may think proper to make with respect to the sailing of the Trade from hence, in consequence of the Instructions you may have brought from England, will depend upon your own decision, as it is my intention to deliver over to you the several orders and the command of His Majesty's ships and Vessels upon the Coast of America tomorrow morning and shall proceed to sea,
