

as to the time when you may consider it expedient to re-embark the Troops as that ^{must in} maintain a great degree be regulated by the success of your undertaking and by the approach of the Enemy's Force, but you will previously ascertain whether in the opinion of the Commander of the Naval Force there is any period peculiarly unfavourable for re-embarkation.

You will regularly transmit to me for the information of His Majesty's Government detailed accounts of your proceedings and of any operations in which you may have been engaged.

When the object of the present which you may make on the Coast is to take possession of any Naval or Military Stores, you will not delay the