

Ships belonging to either of the other stations within your jurisdiction, on some most urgent occasion or necessity; and directing the Vessels of the Halifax Station which may proceed into either of the others to return with as little delay as possible, but in all cases you are to endeavor to combine the return to them with that of the several ships & Vessels with the Company or any other vessels which they may be able to perform.

In the event of your learning that a superior ^{British} force shall have entered either of the other stations, while you remain in command of the Halifax Station, my Lords will charge and direct you to send out there a sufficient force to enable the Admiral on the Station to meet the Enemy; or if you shall think sent out, in order that no time may be in striking at home where it can be done with apparent advantage -

5. A quantity of Ammunition to be made up in packages from Fifty to five hundred weight each, to be sent by water and delivered for burning Ships, Wharfs, Black houses &c.
