Sir

I beg leave to state to you the situation I am in for want of boats, and to say that we really have not one to send away even to a small distance, that I think trustworthly, and that I have frequently been afraid of some accident happening through this circumstance, and hope that in this state you will be pleased to excuse my sending down to you the daily Progress &c, until we may be supplied with boats which are safe.

I therefore have to request that you will be pleased to give such directions as you may think necessary on the occasion; and have the honor to be

To Rear Admiral Cockburn Senior Officer of
