

Should the weather moderate I expect to get to Sea the day after tomorrow in the prosecution of your Instructions, but should I meet with such weather on the Coast of Georgia as it is reported has been lately experienced there, I fear I shall not be able to keep the large Ship as close in with it as I could wish, you shall however have all the necessary particulars by the earliest opportunity after I get there.

The following Officers have arrived with Admiralty appointments

The Honble. Captain Rodney to supersede Lord A. Percy

Captain Donnet to take the Command of the Peacock.

Captain Montrossor to take the Command of the Rover.

Captain Stamp of the Pandora having received an official letter from Mr. Croker informing him of his being promoted to the Rank of Post Captain, I permitted him to go in the Deadend, and I have just Captain White (who was acting in this Ship) into the Pandora, but as I think it probable
