The conduct of the Seamen for energy and patriotism, was not even excelled by that of the Officers.

At the time I took possession of Alexandria, there were 1500 pounds of Fresh Beef lying on the wharf ready to be delivered to the mouths of the Enemy's Ships, which were then only 2 or 3 miles below the Town. I mention this to show the state that place was in at the time.

In justice to Major Kemper, Commanding a Detachment of the Militia of Genl. Hungerford's Brigade, it is but proper I mention, that on taking possession of Alex^a he immediately marched his detachment to my assistance and which at once secured the Town against any Force the Enemy could send back. 8

The quantity of Flour the Enemy was enabled to take from Alex^a. I found on enquiring to be not more than between 14 & 16,000 Barrels.

As respects the manner of my reception by the citizens of Alex^a when I landed and took
