

John Martin, the witness being cross-interrogated on the part of the defendant says.

To the ninth interrogatory ^{this} deponent answers and says " That at the conversation between Richard Spencer and Philip Reed, this deponent believes the crop of wheat to have been half seeded.

To the tenth interrogatory he answers and says " That he ~~did not receive the full amount of his wages for the year 1829~~ never had a settlement with General Reed for that year, and as the accounts were kept by General Reed, this deponent cannot undertake to say whether he did or did not.

To the eleventh interrogatory he answers and says " That he did not, ~~or~~ but that Richard Spencer did make this deponent a small present for his attention to seeding the wheat, in compliance with his promise heretofore stated.

To the twelfth interrogatory he answers and says " That it was money and amounted to three dollars -

Witness
J. B. Barrell Com^r -

John ^{his} Martin
mark