

The calm continued ~~one~~ hour, that frigate must have fallen into our hands or been destroyed, she must have stopped her moving so as to drop nearer the prizes, who had all said coming up to her with the other frigate, the action continued two & half with the three ships, shortly after the action stages got along side of the ship and had her upon a deep canal in a little time with a number of boats & stages round her, satisfied considerable damage was done to her, for she was some time until the razer opened her fire when she commenced Our loss is very trifling all the Allinson masters escape on board.
189 was killed early in the action by an Eighteen pound ball passed through him & lodged in the chest. No. 154 had a shot betw men & water. No. 87 has her franklin shot away & scow of has some of her sweeps, as well as their stantions shot away but two men slightly injured by splinters from the sweeps, on the the several ships of the line and frigates came into the roads and expect an attack last night, there is now in the roads, three ships of the line & frigates, one Brig & several Juniors I cannot say too much for the officers & crew this occasion, for every man appeared to go into action with
