

Baltimore 10th July 1843

Dear Sir,

Leutth Burrows not having arrived, I immediately inclosed your order to Leutth Coffin, who I presume will reach here on Tuesday next. — I beg leave to observe that we have one other of the Dolphin crew for trial whom your order for the Court does not mention, his name is James Taylor / Prisoner / we have also the deserter I mentioned to you as having run from the Frigate Adams, and who afterwards enlisted & deserted twice from the Army, and was ultimately delivered to me by the request of Capt^l Morris —

I wrote Capt^l Morris some days since for an official charge in order that he might be tried, but have not yet heard from him —

My Belongings have been in readiness waiting for me since my return
